MELLON TESTIFIES CONCERNING BONDS TO PROBERS

Rogers Asserts He's Just About Going "Busted"

(Special To The News)

ORLANDO, Fla., March 13.—See by today's paper where Senator Borah made an appeal to the country to donate a dollar or more each to save the respect of the Republican Party. I just mailed five dollars to make five Republicans respectable. Wish I could afford more, but this continued prosperity has just about got me broke.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

With a few days of spring weather the muddy roads are drying up fast. If the spring-like conditions prevail for a few days many of the worst road conditions will be eliminated.

The address made by Charles B. Patton, progressive Lawrence county farmer, at the Rotary club meeting yesterday at The Castleton, was an interesting one. Especially significant were many of the statements made by Mr. Patton. "The eastern farmer is not complaining like his brother in the west because he has learned how to take care of himself," Mr. Patton said during his remarks. It has always been Pa Newc's idea that there are too many nation-wide generalities in the discussion of the farm problem.

If there is a curfew law in New Castle it should be enforced against the children who stand in the entrances to the theatres and panhandle with the best of them. They have all the beginnings of hardened racketeers. And woe be to the young man who approaches a theatre with only the price of his admission, plus that of his lady friend, in his pocket.

At the library there is one patron whose eyes are so weak that he carries with him one of the strongest reading glasses that Pa Newc ever saw. This he puts over a column of a newspaper and then stand about a foot away from the table to do his reading.

When one gets a glimpse of the thousands of autos touring through this city and about this city, apparently doing nothing but burning gasoline for pleasure riding on a Sunday afternoon, the suspicion enters the mind that this talk about business depression has been largely overdrawn.

Spring housecleaning for the city is getting under way. The street department employes made a tour over North Mercer street this morning and gave the street a massaging.

Indeed, spring is here. One of the surest signs is the appearance of the sans hat gang on the downtown corners. And they have appeared.

Pa Newc is in receipt of a brief communication from a Neshannock township resident, which is accom-

Secretary Mellon Gives Testimony Before Senators

Tells How He Rejected Bond Financing Deal Proposed By Will Hays

RETURNED BONDS ON LEARNING PLAN

Gave $50,000 As Personal Subscription To G. O. P. Fund Later

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Andrew W. Mellon, multi-millionaire Secretary of the Treasury, told the Senate public lands committee under oath today how he had refused to trade a $50,000 check to the Republican national committee in return for $50,000 of Harry F. Sinclair's liberty bonds.

Mellon said that Will H. Hays, Republican National chairman in 1923 approached him with the offer of a trade. The secretary said he rejected it.

Crowd Jams Room

A tremendous crowd jammed the little committee room, many women were present. Former Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas, Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the late President Wilson and John Walsh, brother of the senator, had front seats.

Mellon was the first witness to arrive. As the hearing was late getting under way, Mellon lighted one of his special "Pittsburgh Stogies" and puffed contentedly.

William M. Butler, President Coolidge's campaign manager in 1924, and now Republican National chairman, arrived along with members of the senate committee.

Opens Questioning

Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D) of Montana, opened the questioning of Mellon about the bond deal.

"I had a telephone message from New York from Mr. Hays telling me he was sending me a valuable package and that he was coming to Washington later to see me about it," said Mellon. "I was busy at the time when

Hinchcliffe Starts Flight To Cross Atlantic Ocean

(International News Service)

LONDON, March 13.—Captain W. R. Hinchcliffe, noted British ace who hopped off at Cranwell Airdrome at 8:40 o'clock this morning for a secret destination is attempting a trans-Atlantic flight it was announced this afternoon by Hinchcliffe's agent.

"My husband's representative has just informed me that my husband set out to fly across the atlantic without making a stop in Ireland" Mrs. Hinchcliffe, the aviator's wife told Internatinal News service.

Seen Over Ireland.

LONDON, March 13.—Captain W. R. Hinchcliffe who hopped off from Cranwell aerodrome at 8:40 a. m. this morning in an attempt to fly the Atlantic pased over Mizen Head, County Cork, Ireland, this afternoon flying in a westerly direction, said a Central News dispatch from Dublin.

LONDON, March 13.—Captain W. R. Hinchcliffe, famous British airman, hopped off in a Stinson monoplane from the Cranwell aerodrome at 8:40 a. m. today for an undivulged destination.

The flier was accompanied by a male passenger.

A heavy fog hung over the field as Hinchcliffe took off. The plane turned westward after leaving the aerodrome.

Hinchcliffe hopped off in a Stinson monoplane similar to that used by Brock and Schlee in their attempt to fly around the world.

The plane was heavily loaded, indicating that a long flight was anticipated. It took off only with the greatest difficulty.

The name "Adventure" and a British Union Jack on the side of the fuselage identified the plane as the same one in which it was reported last week that Hinchcliffe and Miss Elsie Mackaye, daughter of Lord Inchcape, the shipowner, were to attempt a trans-Atlantic flight.

When interviewed by International News Service before the take-off, Hinchcliffe resolutely refused to divulge the destination of his flight. His only admission was that he hoped to create a long distance air record before he landed.

Last week it was reported that Hinchcliffe might attempt to fly to India. Hinchcliffe had nothing to say regarding this report today.

NEAR KINGMAN, Ariz., March 13.—C. C. ("Cross Country") Pyle's mobile armada labored over U. S. Seek To Determine If Corner Exists In Radio Stock

New York Stock Exchange Starts Machinery In Motion To Get Facts

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 13.—The New York Stock Exchange today set in motion machinery to determine if a "free and open market" exists in the stock of the Radio Corporation of America. If it is found that a corner exists in the stock, it will face removal from the big board's trading lists.

All members of the Stock Exchange have received from the business conduct committee a demand to furnish each day definite information relative to the buying and selling of Radio Corporation stock through their offices.

Questionnaires mailed to the members ask for the following information:

The aggregate long and short positions of the members and their customers in Radio Corporation stock; the number of shares borrowed and from whom; the number of shares loaned and to whom.

Before the opening of the market today Radio Corporation was "loaning flat" in the loan crowd, which means that borrowers of the stock received no interest on the money deposited with the lenders as security for the stock. Only through this borrowing process are the shorts in a position to "make delivery" on stock sold short on the Stock Exchange.

Nairobi is in the State of Kenyu, on the east coast of Africa.

Youthful Boston Murderer Pays Extreme Penalty

Herbert J. Gleason, 21, Slayer Of Storekeeper Pays With Life In Chair

(International News Service)

BOSTON, March 13.—Calm to the very end, Herbert J. Gleason, 21, known as the "baby face bandit", was electrocuted at Charlestown state prison early today for first degree murder.

Watching a crucifix held in the hand of Rev. Father Michael J. Murphy, prison chaplain, young Gleason repeated prayers recited by Father Murphy and continued until Warden William Hendry signalled to Executioner Robert Elliott to turn on the current.

Taking the crucifix from the chaplain, Gleason touched it to his lips, saying, "My Lord and my God into thy hands I commend my spirit". There was but one shock of electric current applied.

Thus the rosy-cheeked youth who killed James Monagle, a South Medford storekeeper, in the first and only hold-up of his life, paid the supreme penalty.

First Installment Of 1928 Income Tax Nearly Half Billion

Income Taxes For 1928 Due On Thursday, March 15; Prosperity Is Shown

Expect About Two And A Half Million To File Income Returns This Year

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Two and a half million Americans will step up to Uncle Sam's cash counter Thursday and leave from $475,000,000 to $490,000,000 as the first installment of their 1928 income taxes.

In this group will be about 23 individuals whose incomes in 1927 exceeded $1,000,000, while there will be from 13 to 15 who gathered in more than $5,000,000, for their year's thinking and sound investing.

These estimates were made today by treasury department experts for the International News Service.

There were 228 millionaire incomes in 1926, as reflected by taxes collected in 1927, according to official statistics to be issued soon by the bureau of internal revenue. Officials estimate the slight increase for last year's incomes because of the successful period enjoyed by most of the big corporations whose dividends go to make up

Butler Man Testifies In Case Against Him In County Court

DENIES CHARGE HE HAD BEEN DRINKING

Elgie McCandless, the defendant, went on the witness stand in his own defense this morning. Mr. McCandless has a crippled right leg. For that reason he had his automobile fitted up with a special device, consisting of an iron bar connecting the clutch and brake. He operates the car with his left foot. When the clutch is pushed down in also puts on the brake, but when the brake is pushed down it does not affect the clutch.

He said that on the evening of the accident he had left Butler about 6:30. He arrived at the home of a sister, who lives a short distance off of the Butler-New Castle road about 7:30. He remained there until about 9:45 or 10 o'clock as near as he could estimate. He had not looked at the time. He left his sister's with the intention of driving to Youngstown. Beyond Rose Point he had stopped at a filling station and bought a bottle of pop.

Tells of Crash

Arriving at the outskirts of New Castle he drove down Butler avenue, he said. As he neared the scene of the accident he saw two cars approaching and put on his dimmers. His first view of the truck standing by the roadside was when he was about two rods away. He saw a man standing at the rear. He attempted to work his clutch and brake to avoid striking the truck, but was unsuccessful. He thought that his foot slipped

SECRETARY HOOVER MAY BECOME "RADIO CZAR"

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 13. — The possibility of Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover being forced to assume the role of radio "Czar" assumed new proportions that with the senate and house tangled in a disagreement over the Watson Radio bill.

Unless the measure, which extends the life of the commission for one year, is made into law by Thursday night, the commission will become an appeal board and Hoover will regulate broadcasting.

Senate leader indicated they would reject the Davis amendment to the bill, added by the house late yesterday, requiring the commission to divide broadcasting licenses, station power and wave lengths equally among the five different zones of the nation.

The house also eliminated a proviso attached by the senate requiring the President to submit nominations of all commissioners to the senate again next year.

Doubt was expressed whether conference committees could straighten out the tangle in three days.

Dam Gives Way Near Los Angeles, Valley Is Flooded

Estimate 200 To 300 Lives May Be Lost In Disaster This Morning

REPORTS ON DEATH TOLL AT VARIANCE

Cause Of Dam Breaking Not Known; Part Of Los Angeles Water System

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—The bodies of 63 persons, drowned when the 200-foot St. Francis dam, five miles north of Newhall, went out early this morning, have been recovered the Southern Pacific railroad reported today.

Between 200 and 300 lives were lost in the flood, railroad officials estimated.

All of the recovered bodies were found in the Newhall district at daybreak, reports to the railroad company said.

An unconfirmed report to police headquarters said an airplane flying over the flooded area had sighted eight bodies in a ditch three miles from Saugus.

Ventura county sheriff's office reported four bodies recovered at Piru, four at Fillmore, and that John Emmett, a resident of Santa Paula had recovered two bodies near that city.

Relief work and investigations have been seriously hampered by road and rail conditions.

Communication Cut Off

All means of communication by rail, highway, or telephone, between Saugus and Santa Paula are so badly wrecked transportation is impossible.

Ventura county offices are unable to penetrate further than Santa Paula, while Los Angeles officers are stopped at Saugus.

Allegheny River Ice Pack Is Ready To Move Any Time

(International News Service)

KITTANNING, Pa., March 13.—A break in the 20-mile Allegheny river ice pack may be expected any moment, river men said today after finding the ice rotting fast.

The pack extends from Clinto to near Templeton. Observers say a rise of a foot or more in the river level will cause the jam to move out.

You drive from home in the morning hours, a glow with health and the urge to do, you get the light at the corner stop, a wave from the cop and you put 'er through. There's plenty of gas and the oil is fresh, the motor purrs, and there's plenty of spark, but after you get to the office door, the question arises, where will you park? Up an alley and down a street, dodging and twisting for room to stop, but some one else has preempted it, and every day there shows a bigger cron. Around the block till you're late for work, and the miles pile up on your ancient ark, but look as you will its a job each day, finding a spot where you want to park. And finally in an hour or so, your temper rises and you get sore, and you take the car to a parking ground, the weather is balmy and sixty-four.

Reeves Introduces Three New Measures

New Grade On Rose Avenue—Sewer For Garfield Avenue Also Provided

Council met formally at the city building today and Councilman C. H. Reeves introduced three ordinances, one providing for a grade, a second for a sanitary sewer and a third for the purchase of property. The ordinances were sent to committee and reported out with favorable reports.

The city plans to change and fix a grade in Rose avenue between Stanton avenue and Cascade street.

A sanitary sewer will be built in Garfield avenue between Wilmington avenue and 160 feet west of Mercer street.

The property purchase bill will result in the city buying the Polk and Connor properties at Greenwood avenue, State and West North streets for $3,650. They are considered view blockades and council desires to pave Greenwood avenue between West Washington and state streets.

Allegheny Officers Plan To Visit Camp

Will Come To Camp Phillips For Conference April 14 And 15

Because the reputation of Camp Phillips, local Boy Scout camp, has spread all over the United States on account of the rating which was given to it by state inspectors last year, the entire staff of the Allegheny County Council, Boy Scouts of America, consisting of 40 men will come to the camp April 14 and 15 for the purpose of holding a conference, states Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan.

In talking with Andrew Benson, scout executive of Pittsburgh, who has seen Camp Phillips, Mr. Calahan was told that he wanted the entire staff from the Pittsburgh Council to get the inspiration and see the beautiful scenery and the well planned Boy Scout camp at New Castle.

A number of the other councils are planning visits to Camp Phillips during the summer months. Requests have also come from boys of other cities who would like to spend their vacations at Camp Phillips. But because this camp was dedicated to Lawrence county boys, this is an impossibility.

It is not often that a street commissioner is called upon to do a Sir Walter Raleigh, but that is what happened yesterday afternoon to Harry Moore. A woman called the city tool house and requested that her street be fixed immediately as she could not cross without getting her shoes all scuffed up. the principal portion of the larger incomes.

Expect Slight Drop.

Taxes anticipated in 1929, however, are expected to show a slight drop in the number of millionaires. Present indications are that there will be a small reduction in corporation dividends.

Millionaire incomes have shown a remarkable increase in the last few years. In 1921 but 21 individuals reported incomes in excess of $1,000,000. With the slashing of tax rates the number went to 75 in 1924 and higher in 1925.

Secretary Mellon always has maintained that within certain limitations tax reduction would release vast sums, tied up in exempt securities, to productive enterprise which might be taxed by the federal government.

The amount of the tax return this year will disclose definitely the state of prosperity enjoyed by the United States yast year and will have an importnat bearing upon whether or not congress will be justified in making another tax reduction. If economy is employed in appropriating public moneys and if the March return reaches expectaions officials felt that a cut of not to exceed $225,000,000 would be justified.

Income tax returns will be filed by less than 5,000,000 individuals out of the 117,000,000 population. Returns must be filed by all single persons who earn over $2,000 and by married persons making over $3,500. Nearly 1,000,000 corporations will make returns although many of them do not file on a calendar year basis.

from the brake and struck the accelerator. The next instant the crash occurred.

Questioned by District Attorney J. Elder Bryan on cross examination, he denied that he had been drinking. He stated that he does not use liquor at all, and had never tasted it except possibly when it had been prescribed for him when sick. He said that on the evening of the accident he had been using some cough drops. Asked if he blamed the cough drops for containing the odor of liquor he said that he did not.

District Attorney Bryan asked him as to statements he had made when securing a driver's license. Objection was raised by Attorney Dickey for the defense.

Judge Chambers asked what it was proposed to prove. District Attorney Bryan stated that it was with reference to statements made in securing a license. Attorney Dickey objected on the grounds that the application was the best evidence. The court sustained the objection.

Witnesses Heard

With both the commonwealth and the defense apparently desirous of getting the trial finished as quickly as possible, the case of the commonwealth against Elgie McCandless made rapid strides on Monday afternoon in courtroom number two.

The jury had been selected in the morning and immediately after opening District Attorney J. Elder Bryan opened his case. J. P. Caldwell, coroner, was called and testified to the death of Fred Beebe, the Cleveland man who was killed in the automobile accident on Butler avenue June 14, 1927, when the car of McCandless hit him. W. Leslie Wilson, a civil engineer, was called and exhibited a map of the district in which the accident occurred.

Only one really material witness was called by the commonwealth, this being Roy Bricker, a driver of the United Driveaway Company, who was with Beebe at the time of the accident. Bricker testified that they had stopped on the Butler road to change a tire and that after the changing Mr. Beebe was replacing the curtain on the back of the car when the car of McCandless bumped into him, killing Beebe. Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, who is defending McCandless, cross-examined but little.

John Stark Jr., a department head of the United Driveaway Company, was called and testified that a man named Imhoff, who had been with the crew, could not be found. He also testified to coming to New Castle after the accident.

The following police officers were called: Carl Lockhart, John Moore, James Steiner, Robert Dukes, Ralph Crisswell and Grover Syling, and they testified to the arrest of McCandless.

Dr. F. Earl Eakin testified to having examined McCandless after the accident, and two photographers, E. E. Seavy and Clark Rutter, testified to having taken pictures of the car and of the scene of the accident. Clarence Cooper, a garage man, testified to the McCandless car having been stored in the Keystone garage after the accident.

Elgie McCandless, the defendant, is a prominent citizen of Butler, Pa., while the deceased, Fred Beebe, was not known here. The family of the deceased man is not represented in the case, all damages having been paid in full to them by McCandless.

The case should go to the jury tonight, or at the very latest, Wednesday morning.

TROOP 17

Members of First Presbyterian church troop 17 are requested to meet Wednesday evening at the church at seven o'clock. The scouts will then go to the Carnegie auditorium for an athletic meet.

All is vanity, and much of this traveling may be explained by the fact that an office-holder is not without honor save in his own country.

It isn't difficult to win the attention and interest of a stranger. Just ask him what to do for your bad cold.

NE WCASTLE GETS BIG CAMPOREE OF SCOUTS THIS YEAR

between the troops of all councils between now and June 15 and 16 and the troop that wins the elimination will represent the council at the annual western Pennsylvania spring meet.

Laud Camp Phillips.

Because of the wonderful rating given Camp John M. Phillips by the national council, Boy Scouts of America, and the various camping experts who have inspected this camp and because of its scenic beauty, good water and fine equipment, this site was chosen. It was also chosen because of the interest shown by the Chamber of Commerce and the various civic clubs which will help entertain the guests, and when the final vote was tabulated, it showed the majority chose New Castle.

The camporee is a check-up on what a scout has learned in regards outdoor life under any and all conditions. He must know how properly to make a pack, including his entire equipment; he must know how properly to carry this equipment, he must know suitable clothing for in the open. He must know how properly to water-proof his pack and how properly to distribute his equipment. He must know and practice personal cleanliness, he must know how properly to select a camp site, locate his shelter, locate and build his fire, properly use the knife and axe in wood cutting, how properly to locate, construct and keep in sanitary conditions a latrine; he must know first aid, how properly to make a bed with the materials he finds in the open, how properly to use tools, how properly to prepare an appetizing menu and properly cooking the same; he must know how to construct an outdoor refrigerator where he can keep his food sanitary and cool; he must know how properly to serve a meal in the open; he must know how to select the proper drinking water; he must know how to construct an incinerator and garbage disposal; he must learn to respect authority from his patrol leaders; he must demonstrate leadership ability; he must show scout-like conduct.

Each group of eight boys participating in this camporee will be under the direction of another boy who is their patrol leader, in other words adult leadership is not permitted on the field during the time the camporee is in competition as the boys must use their own initiative and be strictly under the leadership of the patrol leader.

There will also be given an impromptu examination by the judges which might consist of judging as to weight, height or distance, map making, signaling, rope work, whittling, scout oath and law, compass work, nature study, impromptu cooking, also an impromptu program must be put on by the patrol in the evening by the campfire.

Program.

The boys will arrive at camp on the afternoon of June 15 carrying their complete equipment at which time the first inspection will be made. They will then select their camp site, erect their pup tents, prepare the evening meal and then prepare their beds for the night. At 8 o'clock a big campfire program will be held at which time the public will be invited to be present; in fact, anybody who cares to watch this demonstration in outdoor life will be permitted to do so from the sidelines at any time but must not go on the field. Following the campfire, the boys will retire for the night, after which an inspection will be made by the judges to determine whether they are properly protected from the elements. The first call will be at 5 o'clock in the morning, followed by a sitting up exercise under the direction of a physical director. The boys will then be permitted to air their bedding, prepare themselves for inspection and then will proceed to cook their breakfast. At 10 o'clock a contest in scoutcraft will be held by experts in each subject called for by the judges. The boys will not know what they will be called upon to do until this time. At 11 o'clock they will break camp, roll their packs and receive final inspection.

The Lawrence county council is very happy that the camp jamboree is coming here in the spring and an invitation is extended to the public to be present to see what the scout movement is all about

The national campaign against the common cold, says the announcement, is a serious movement. Nothing to be sneezed at.—The Oakland Tribune.

Building Line In Controversy

Councilman Burns today introduced a motion which passed during council session at city hall notifying Wilbur Baer who is building a property at Meyer avenue and Albert street that "if there is an established building line of 20 feet" the building being constructed should be removed. The recorded plot, it was reported, shows a building line of 20 feet while the zoning ordinance calls for properties to set back a distance of 10 feet.

However, the zoning ordinance calls for property owners to pay respect to such lines when they are recorded.

The motion was introduced for the purpose of putting the city in a position to complain should objections be voiced and the case taken to court.

APPEAL IS FILED IN AUTOMOBILE CASE

Petition for special allowance of a certiorari has been filed in the prothonotary's office in the case of the commonwealth against Walter Levy. It is claimed that Levy was charged by C. C. McDermott before Alderman Marshall with operating a motor vehicle without legal right.

He was fined $25 and costs and in default of payment of the costs was committed to jail. There is also a charge of operating an auto without any title on which a similar fine was imposed. Levy says that he is not guilty of the charges and asks for the certiorari in order that the case may come before court.

Classes Resume At Westminster

Victory Over Grove City Will Be Properly Celebrated Thursday Night

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 13—Classes resumed today at Westminster following yesterday's holiday in honor of Westminster's tri-state conference championship basketball team.

Whe plans were made for the holiday last week it was not known that Westminster would have a double reason for celebrating. Saturday night's great victory over Grove City practically gives the Titan players in addition to the conference title, the small college district title. More than this the victory over the Crimson was the first on the court in eight years.

There were no exercises or demonstrations yesterday on the part of the students. It was thought at first that a special chapel service would be called, but many students went home to spend the week end with relatives where they could play again in words Saturday night's great game. Then too, Thursday night has been set for the huge banquet in honor of Westminster's greatest team in years and the authorities did not want to detract from that event.

Many alumni and former students who journeyed here for the game Saturday night were using long distance calls to explain their failure to get back to their accustomed activities at home. A number were still in town last night.

Says Legislation Only Method For Mining Problems

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 13. — In the opinion of S. K. Radcliffe, associate editor of the "New Statesman" of London, who is visiting here today, the only solution of this country's coal mining ills is legislation.

"Because they are not a political body," said the London editor, "the United Mine Workers have a hard time gaining their ends. They deal with hours and wages, both subjects for legislation, yet have no representation in any legislative body.

"In England we have tried government subsidy and government management and both are failures. Legislation is the only answer."

NOW IS THE TIME TO START

IN MANY sections of the country at the present time the advisability of getting seasonal work under way earlier than usual this spring is being strongly stressed.

The idea is that it is an opportune time to have miscellaneous work done, to arrange for repair work, to start city, township and county improvement work, and to undertake all kinds of work that is planned for the coming summer.

By starting the work earlier than the usual plans would call for, a number of ends will be achieved. The person letting the contract for the work will get better service and results. There will be employment provided for some that otherwise would not be employed at the present time, and there would be a beneficial effect upon industry and business everywhere.

New Castle council is already advertising for street paving bids, in order to get local improvement work contemplated, started as early as possible. Likewise, the state highway department has awarded contracts so that early resumption of work on state highways can be started. Contracts are being offered on building projects, and in other lines earlier than usual.

But, every individual or concern in Lawrence county can aid in helping the situation along. If you intend to have any kind of work done during the late spring or summer, move the time up and get the work under way.

It will work a benefit all around.

Don't delay until late in the fall, or late in the summer to get projects under way. Get them going at once!

STRANGE SEA TRAGEDY

HOW the commander of the Robert E. Lee came to be so far off his course that he piled his ship up on the rocks off Manomet Point is a subject for rigid investigation.

Even if he mistook one flash-buoy for another, and headed for the entrance to the Cape Cod Canal too soon, he should have known in those familiar waters where he was by the distance the ship had traveled; presumably he knew just what speed she was making, and the frequent use of the log might have shown him she was getting into shallow waters before it was too late. These are matters on which full information will be expected.

After staying on board all night the passengers were landed without loss of life. The tragic feature of the disaster was the loss of three men in the Coast Guard crew that was pulling out to the rescue. The sea pounds heavily on the beach at Manomet cliffs in a storm, and more than one attempt was made to get the lifeboat through the surf before these resolute and expert oarsmen succeeded. Once along side the stranded ship they could not get aboard. It was on the way back from this heroic but futile effort that a high comber capsized or broached their craft and threw them into the water. The rescuers could not get there in time to save them all from death.

That these men should be the only persons lost is a strange tragedy of the sea. And the circumstances make it seem peculiarly purposeless. But they died as brave men should, facing perils that were all in the day's work to them.

PROSPERITY'S PULMOTOR

ADVERTISING is in a state of evolution, if not of revolution. Like business, of which it is an invaluable ally, it is ever undergoing change and showing miraculous growth.

One phase of the present evolution in advertising which every newspaper reader must have noted is the increasing use national advertisers are making of the newspaper as an advertising medium.

Only a few years ago the only national advertisers using newspaper advertising space extensively were the makers of home remedies and toilet articles. Long ago these manufacturers learned the value of newspaper advertising and put that knowledge to practical and profitable use. An amazing change has been wrought in a few years.

Last year national advertisers distributed $225,000,000 among daily and weekly newspapers of the United States. It must have been a paying investment for many of them have allowed more for newspaper advertising in their 1928 budgets.

Fifty-seven automobile manufacturers bought $33,505,000 worth of newspaper space last year.

National advertisers of food products spent $24,045,000 for newspaper advertising last year and fourteen tobacco concerns used $15,260,000 worth of space.

Were it not for these advertisers and the advertising of local business, readers would be paying several times three cents for their newspapers today.

Yet most of the big jobs are held by men who never try to do anything to get on the first page.

When a man rounds out fifty years in a profession such as a physician and holds the esteem and high regard of the community, he has followed the highest ethics of one of the greatest professions in the world, namely that of caring for the sick, the injured and dying. Dr. D. R. Harris is a credit to the city and to himself and we hasten to add our congratulations to those of the many others that he has received.

Financial records of the G. O. P. national committee up to 1923 have been destroyed. There is one thing about it, that ends the efforts of investigators to determine whether or not the Republicans had any part in the Continental Trading company's slush fund.

Now the French would claim the gold sent here by the Soviet government to facilitate the establishment of trade between this country and Russia. Just a little strange, don't you think for the French to claim this money and at the same time to try and get out of paying Uncle Samuel what they owe him. It would look a little better, if they were not so anxicus to claim the other fellows money.

The municipal garbage plant is operating without the use of a single pound of coal at the present time. The new equipment is said to have made this possible. It's a saving that will soon justify the expense of having the plant remodeled.

Agan the girls have triumphed educationally, this time at Westminster college, our own institution of higher learning. The two honor positions in the graduating class go to girls. I'ts about time that the boys pay attention to their laurels, or soon the girls will have everything cornered and the boys will be left out in the cold.

Congress has failed to approve the bill that would have eliminated the so-called Lame Duck sessions of that august body, which get that name by reason of the fact that they are of short duration and but little good is accomplished. There would probably be a little less foolish legislation if this session of congress could be eliminated.

And now it is the bell hops and hotel porters who would put on a ball in our fair city. There is not much reason to doubt but what they will put on a gilt edged afafir, if they use the same methods that they practice in their every day affairs.

And now it is a justice of the peace and one of his friends that have been relieving the easy marks of their money by the old time method of offering glittering rewards for money loaned them in collecting an old estate. Just another evidence that there is a sucker born almost every second of the day.

And now we learn of the rarest of operations, in New York, the birth of a child after the death of the mother. No wonder they speak of modern methods as being almost like the miracles of old. Imagine bringing life in death. Just another indication of marvelous things that are in store for future generations.

News Item:—The Prince of Wales had another fall while exercising his horses but escaped injury. Now who cares how many times he falls from a horse. We're sure we don't. But we might get up a little enthusiasm, if he should fall for some nice girl and make her his wife. That a least would be something worthwhile talking about.

Invitations have been issued, we learn, to attend the initiation of Miss Nancy Ann Miller of Seattle, Washington into Hinduism, preparatory to her marriage to the former Maharaja of Indore. One would think on account of the publicity given this event that it was something to be proud of. Can't see where there is any honor becoming one of the many wives of an Indian prince.

President Coolidge has signed the bill providing for the settlement of the American claims against Germany and the return of seized property to the Germans. It's about time that something of this kind be done and were're glad that the present congress and President Coolidge saw fit to remove one of the black spots remaining from the recent World war.

Gray squirrels in Stockbridge, Mass., certainly have a taste for food of a rather unusual nature. Recently when the town was plunged into darkness, it was found that squirrels of this variety had eaten the insulation from some of the wires and caused a short circuit. Can't see what the squirrels meant, especially when there is much better stuff than that available for food.

Benjamin A. Page, retired Chicago business man, says that seventy-five briar pipes are necessary for him to enjoy his smoking pleasant. The only difficulty as we see it, is the fact that in order to thoroughly enjoy himself, he always finds it necessary to carry around a considerable number of the pipes. Most men would be glad to have one good pipe, let alone seventy five.

The fact that it was a cold night did not stop three men from taking the clothing of George Brown of Hamilton, O. George wandered into the police station clad in B. V. D.'s and his socks and sold his story. Too bad George didn't have them tied on so securely that they could not be taken.

Railway officials of a small town in Germany have given up an unequal battle with a donkey. The donkey has the important duty of pulling the cart with milk intended for shipment to the station. He has taken it upon himself to stop at a certain point along the track and compel the baggage car to stop there. Te refused to budge to a more convenient point. The engineers have been instructed to stop the milk car just where the donkey decrees to stop. This is just another sample of what it means to have a mind of your own. You can accomplish anything, if you have, even if you are a mule.

Turkey's Militant women leaders are determined that universal suffrage must prevail in the new republic within a comparatively short time. They have formed an organization all of their own and will sponsor candidates of their own sex. We'd advise the Turk's not to try and stop this. A 3 Billion Stock.
Au Revoir Mr. Ludwig.
Why A Conspiracy?
Too Much Oil? Hardly.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Last Saturday, Wall Street employed the two shining hours of business, buying and selling more than one million shares an hour. Business in that neighborhood is really big.

One stock, General Motors, selling at $160 a share, represents a total value of nearly three billion dollars.

We have reached the age of billions. An investment of $60 in General Motors, early in the war, would be worth $5,000 now. There is no knowing what heights American values will reach.

The one thing certain is that if you gamble, you will end badly. What about the big men with millions? They don't gamble. They know what they are doing, and let the fools gamble.

Mr. Emil Ludwig returns to Europe, having seen Otto H. Kahn and other parts of America. Someone gave Ludwig this misinformation: "We have little socialism in America because we tell the state that it exists for the people. In Europe they tell the people they exist for the state, and there is much socialism."

We have little socialism here because powerful rich men that really run the country, selecting those for whom the people shall vote, have brains enough to pay liberal wages. Cut wages in two and you'd have here a radicalism that would make Europe's socialism look pale.

Ludwig says he met 25 men and three billions of dollars at Kahn's house. He'd met more billions than that, if Kahn invited the right 25—Rockefeller, Baker, Mellon, Ford, Dupont, etc.

Ludwig will write a life of Lincoln. It will interest all interested in Ludwig, not so much those interested in Lincoln. Until you know thoroughly the America of today and of 90 years ago, you cannot know Lincoln.

Washington discovers a British conspiracy to keep this country from building super-ocean steamships and dominating the world at sea. No need of any conspiracy. Just leave us to our own inefficiency, as proved in our shipping attempts hitherto.

In any case, neither of two conspicuous presidential candidates, Hoover for the Republicans, Al Smith for the Democrats, would eat out of Balfour's hand, as our boy statesmen at the Washington battleship-junking conference did. Mr. Hoover proved his quality when he broke down the British rubber monopoly.

Mr. Sinclair, visiting Mr. Fall formerly of the cabinet, is gloomy about the oil outlook. He fears greater over-production this year than last.

Other oil people can find comfort in the fact that just now Mr. Sinclair may be slightly prejudiced on oil matters. In any case, there are oil fields belonging to the United States navy that will not be dumped into the over-production.

Gasoline consumption increased 12.4 per cent last year. California led, using one billion seventeen million gallons. If every state had, in proportion to population, as many automobiles as California, there would be 60,000,000 cars running in America, instead of 24,000,000.

The problem is not too much oil, but how to check waste that will menace the country later, unless a substitute for gasoline is found.

Mexico's supreme court approves the alien land law forbidding foreigners to own land within 100 miles of the border, or 50 miles of the seacoast. If that law stands, it means practical confiscation of practically all the best oil lands developed by American capital. Americans can keep their lands by becoming Mexican citizens, which they will not do. Failing that, their property will be sold at auction, only Mexican citizens allowed to bid. You can imagine what prices the property worth hundreds of millions would bring.

Mexico will probably discover that American capital is "sensitive" when it comes to confiscation.

WE FOOLISH OLD

She was pretty as could be,
He was fully sixty-three.
Bald, mustachioed and stout,
Trying hard to frisk about.
And thought I, will lovely May
From December walk away?

So I watched them sitting there,
Gray old man and maiden fair,
Wondering if she liked to be
Petted by such fools as he;
Wondering how her arm could stand
Being stroked by such a hand.

"Sister," to myself I said,
"If a brain is in your head;
If you learned a thing at school
You'll dismiss that vain old fool.
What he's simpering to you,
Must disgust you through and through."

I don't know just what she said,
Suddenly she rose and fled.
And I chuckled as I saw
That old fellow's drooping jaw.
"Lord," I prayed, "don't let me be Such a fool at sixty-three."

Dr. Crane's Editorial

AN INTERNATIONAL BUGABOO

One of the most persistent international bugaboos, a principal cause of the senseless race for armaments, not to say one of the causes of war, is the notion that seems to be popular in every country that diplomats of every other country are deep, sly, cunning fellows, while the diplomats of our own country are babes in innocence and childlike trustfulness.

Much was said of President Wilson being deceived and hood-winked by the deep and crafty representatives of other governments at Paris. It has always been my suspicion that President Wilson and his advisors were about as shrewd as any of the others.

Somehow it pleases us to think that the statesmen of Europe are oily, tricky Metternichs and Talleyrands, while our own statesmen are merely Sunday School teachers from Kokomo, Indiana.

We are bluff, hale and frank, while the people of other nations are crafty and shy.

I was once in a boat sailing along the coast of Japan. My daughter exclaimed, "What a beautiful coast line!" One of the party replied, "Yes, but the Japanese are tricky." Even a coast line must have some deep and sinister significance.

There are doubtless bad and devious people, also nations, in this world, but the world is never going to get along well until we learn to trust each other. This was the teaching of Christ and he was about the most adult-minded of human beings.

"He who trusts everybody will probably be bitten," said Spurgeon, "but he who suspects everybody will be devoured."

Sometime ago a man wrote a book—I think he was from Arkansas—called "My Neighbor Is Perfect." The book showed how human knots could be untangled by simply trusting your neighbor.

It is a long step in the dark to get the habit of trustfulness, but it is a good habit to form, nevertheless.

The Golden Rule is all right, but it needs an amendment. To the advice, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" should be added the supplement, dare to do it first.

To get along well with your neighbors requires after all a lot of daring, more courage perhaps than to quarrel with them.

It is easy to be suspicious and captious and touchy. It is hard to be trusting. But it pays.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WE DO PROGRESS.

The "Full Dinner Pail" has been a slogan effectually used in Presidential campaigns. It seems that there are now many large manufacturing concerns in these United States to which few "dinner pails" are brought by the workmen. At these plants there are great kitchens and dining rooms where the employees may and do buy their dinners, suppers, lunches and even breakfasts.

The National Biscuit Company was one of the first industrial concerns to operate a restaurant as an integral part of its plant. The gigantic task of feeding from 8,000 to 10,000 employees, or those of them who wish to take advantage of the facilities offered, has been worked out in such a manner that employees and officers of the company are able to buy the best quality foods obtainable at the lowest possible prices. The restaurant department operates so as to break even, sometimes takes a small loss in order to make certain that no profit will accrue to the company.

Each of the nine units of the National Biscuit's New York plant is supplied with a restaurant, equipped in up-to-date style and operated on the cafeteria plan. The average number of full dinners served daily in these restaurants is approximately 2,500. The average number of daily sales (full dinners, separate dishes, breakfasts, etc.) is 6,800 averaging 10½ cents apiece. A full dinner consists of soup at 5 cents a portion, meat and vegetables at 10 cents, dessert (choice of pies, puddings, pastries, etc) at 5 cents, with three slices of bread served gratis. Officers of the company have a separate restaurant, similar in almost every respect to those patronized by the employees, with almost the same food and prices.

The following are some of the staple supplies consumed monthly: 12,000 pounds of meat, 12,500 pounds of potatoes, 9,000 loaves of bread, 2,200 dozen rolls, 50,000 sandwiches, 40,000 pieces of pastry, 4,400 pies, 1,000 pounds of coffee, 28,000 individual tea bags.

LINDSEY AND MARRIAGE

One thought to be remembered in any discussion of "companionate marriage," of which Judge Lindsey talks, is that it is not a new idea. Read your history carefully and you know that practically every form of domestic life has been tried at different periods throughout the ages. We have had free love, plural marriage, polyandry (several men marrying one woman), wife lending and easy divorce. Everything that man has so far been smart enough to think of has been tried. Nothing has appeared so sound, to the best minds, as the much-criticised monogamy. We shall probably have it for some time to come.

TO LOVE WORK

The Mussolini party in Italy is trying to make the aristocrats, the high-hats, go to work. Aristocracy is irritated at the charge that its members are idle and useless. Not much will come of trying to force them to go to work. But something can be done with the generation growing up. The main thing is to teach boys and girls to love work and sense the value of it—to themselves and to the community.

ISSUES

It would be a fine thing for the rank and file of us to know just what the true issues of a campaign are. Some issues are put together to sell and some are real and honest. Some grow naturally and have a place in the thinking of voters, and some are just bugaboos trotted out from behind the door.

ORBITS.

R. L. Robinson is an electrical engineer and a friend and neighbor of mine. He is intensely devoted to outdor life. Today riding to work on a commuter's train Robinson stimulated my thinking apparatus. He was telling me about the wonderful skiing he had been enjoying.

"Yes" I said "I suppose it must be great. I didn't see any of it."

"No it's unfortunate that your set-up is such that you don't get to enjoy such things."

And there was realy sympathy in his voice. He meant it. He just can't see how people can enjoy life if they don't ski and climb mountains and row and skate. He really thought that I was missing something because I spend my time otherwise.

So I got to thinking. I called to mind about 20 of my personal friends. Men who I like and who seem to get the flavor of life as they go along. Robinson is the only outdoor man of the lot. Yet the others have their orbits just as consuming and just as all-important as the outdoors.

Each of us has his own set-up as the engineer expresses it. His own interests, background, ambitions, culture. I have a friend who is devoted to dogs and old clocks. He never heard of a ski and he thinks that mountains are to be loked at through telescopes. But he has discovered a wonderful country wherein are dogs and old clocks. I am sure that he feels just a bit sympathetic with an outdoor man or an actor or a merchant who circulates in an orbit that knows not dogs and clocks. His set up is what my engineer friend would call unfortunate but to him it is anything else.

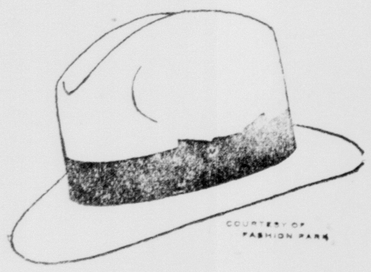

Another friend of mine works hard at his business in which he is a master hand in order to get time and means to hear good music. He doesn't produce any kind of music. But he knows all the great orchestras by heart and he worships at the shrine of Leopold Stokowski. Of course he feels sorry for anyone who doesn't know that Beethoven's Fifth Symphony is great beyond all utterance. And he doesn't know an old clock from a snowshoe.

Still another of my friends travels. When he is at home he looks longingly out toward the sea and presently he is off to Constantinople or Mexico City or Rome without so much as calling up to see whether a porter will meet him when he lands on the other side of the world. And this interesting fellow lives a most entertaining life without any desire whatever to listen to Bach or wind an old clock or climb Everest.

Each of us has his own orbit. I suspect that he lives the fullest life whose orbit interests the greatest number of other interesting orbits. To be an artistic liver of life implies the ability to love your own specialty and to be intelligently interested in the other fellow's outlook and hobbies.

Eye-Witness Tells Of Flood

Water Tears Down Valley In Tremendous Volume, Sweeping All

MANY PERSONS CAUGHT IN TRAP

By LEWIS S. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—Blinding flashes from high power electric lines thrown to the ground and put out of commission by the flood from the St. Francis dam came as the first warning to people in the valley below that "something had happened."

Bert Lewis, employe at Wood's garage, in Saugus, told today the story of how the first word of the breaking of the dam came.

"I saw those flashes and knew something had happened, but I didn't know what it was," Lewis said.

"The flashes kept going on and off for about an hour and then an employe of the Southern California Edison came and told me what had happened.

"He telephoned to Los Angeles and then I went out with him and some others to do what we could. I found the first two bodies.

"They were too young fellows. They didn't have a stitch of clothes on, neither of them. Looked just like they'd been in bed when the water hit them and never knew what hit them.

"I found one body jammed under a cottonwood tree where it had been washed by the waters and the other body about 15 feet further on.

"Some farmers told us that it seemed like the water came in a wall about 75 feet high when it came from the dam down the canyon. The canyon is pretty narrow below the dam, you know.

"And it made a roaring sound—just like a thunderstorm. Some of the farmers we found said they thought an earthquake caused the dam to break. But everybody up here thought it was pretty weak before that. They said when they first built that dam it cracked on them once.

2D ADD—EYE—2

"I guess that water must have been running 25 miles an hour or better.

"The whole valley below the dam was swept clean. I never saw the like of it in my life. Houses, trees, telephone poles, barns, haystacks, everything was swept away and it looked like the bed of a big river when the water began to go down.

"It's still roaring over there, though—you can still hear it, and they tell me there's bridges washed out all along.

"The water struck Harry Carey's ranch and trading post below the dam and it must have been going terrible when it hit there. It swept everything away. Don't know what happened to everybody. We found one fellow still alive, but he didn't know what had happened. We couldn't get anything out of him."

a messenger brought me the package. I laid it on my table and forgot it when I went home that night. Next morning I opened it and saw it was a package of Liberty Bonds."

"How much was in the package?"

"$50,000, although I didn't count them at the time."

Mellon spoke with a trace of nervousness. He faltered over pronunciation. He said he took the bonds to his home.

Returned to Hays

"When Mr. Hays explained the transaction to me, I told him I would return the bonds to him," said Mellon. "I later sent them to Mr. Hays in New York through S. Parker Gilbert (former under-secretary of the treasury) and Mr. Gilbert delivered them to Hays."

Mellon said he hadn't examined the bonds, "because the purpose stated by Mr. Hays did not suit me."

Walsh asked Mellon to tell how Hays had approached him.

"Hays asked me to take this lot of bonds and hold them and to make a subscription to the (Republican) committee for the purpose of discharging its hangover debt," Mellon explained. "I objected to doing so because I would be making a subscription that would not be what it purported to be—a personal subscription."

Mellon said Hays termed it a "loan" to the republicans, to be secured by the bonds.

"That meant the same thing to me so I declined it," Mellon added.

Made Personal Subscription

"I told Hays though that I would make a personal subscription. I had expected to make one so on this occasion, I told him I would send him a subscription of $50,000. Some time later I sent a check for $50,000 to Mr. Upham, the treasurer at Chicago."

Mellon said he had given $2,000 to the Republicans during the 1920 campaign. He described a meeting of Republican "master minds" before the 1920 election to discuss the raising of funds by popular subscription. He said each man was to give $2,000, half before the election and half afterwards. This explained his $2,000 gift.

"I was given a quota of $15,000 for the district in which I reside (Pittsburgh). When I got home I got some gentlemen to organize my district. The quota was over subscribed. I gave $2,000 and so did my brother, my nephew and all others interested. That is all I was solicited for until I became secretary of the treasury.

"After I was secretary I knew of this deficit and I felt I should give more. I simply put the matter off because I knew I would get an opportunity later and the opportunity came when Mr. Hays talked to me."

"How did Hays get these bonds?"

"He said they had been loaned or subscribed," said Mellon.

"He mentioned some large sum—I think $300,000. He said he didn't want to have one contribution recorded for so large an amount and he wanted advances made on the bonds which could be refunded later."

Kept Bonds Few Days

"What was the length of time you kept these bonds?"

"I suppose two of three days. It may have run longer. It's pretty hard to tell. I have no record of it."

Walsh placed in the record copies of all correspondence between himself and Mellon. The latter agreed to this.

In the first letters, Walsh asked for the use of secret service agents to trace the bonds of the Continental Trading company. Mellon readily assented, his replies showed.

In another letter, Walsh asked whether income taxes were due from those who shared in the "profits of the Continental Trading Company." He asked too whether legislation was necessary to collect such taxes.

Mellon in his reply said the Continental had filed no income tax statement. He added that "no evidence, upon which action could be predicated has been secured," but that the Bureau of Internal Revenue was still investigating the Continental in order to collect taxes. Suit for such collection, he said, could be filed at any time.

Letter Figures

Inanother letter Mellon took exception to a newspaper story that the Treasury was not cooperating with the senate committee. He declared the secret service bureau of the Treasury had been directed to take orders direct from the committee and was, to all effects and purposes, working as an agent of the committee. He asked Walsh to cite any instances where secret service agents had failed to do their duty.

Walsh replied that the secret service had "rendered splendid cooperation."

"You say you had previously signified your intention of contributing to the campaign funds, prior to Hays' visit?" asked Walsh.

"Yes, I was ready to make a larger contribution than the $50,000."

"Was there any reason why any one should think you would need to get bonds to make a contribution?"

"No, I felt a little ashamed of my postion of riding along without doing anything for the party," said Mellon. "I was waiting for an opportunity and this situation provided the opportunity."

"Was there any reason why Mr. Hays should think you could be approached with these bonds?"

"No, I was ready to make a subscription at any time."

Butler and Hays Also Testify

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Two men high in the councils of the Republican party—Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon and Ex-Senator William M. Butler, Coolidge campaign manager in 1924—testified under oath today before the Senate public lands committee that Will H. Hays sought to give them some of Harry F. Sinclair's liberty bonds in exchange for cash contributions to make up the Republican deficit in 1923.

Mellon declared Hays sent the bonds to him in a package, $50,000 worth, but that as soon as he discovered the purpose Hays had in mind he returned them at once and later made a $50,000 contribution with no strings attached.

Butler, who at first declared he "knew nothing of the bonds except what I read in the newspapers," admitted under questioning that Hays approached him in his room in the Biltmore Hotel in New York and asked him to take over $25,000 of the bonds in exchange for a cash contribution of that amount. Butler said he declined to take the package of bonds which Hays laid on the table.

Hays, who was called to the stand as soon as Butler stepped down, admitted that the testimony of both was correct.

The bonds, he said, went back to Sinclair and "passed out of the picture".

Hays said he had not told the committee about these mysterious transactions on his previous appearances before the committe because he considered them "irrelevant".

"I don't consider they (the bonds) were relevant because they were not used," he explained.

As for the Butler bonds, Hays said "they were a mere incident".

LETECTORS

What every political campaign needs is some sort of "detector" which will indicate for us just where sense and soundness leave off and bunk begins. Trust candidates to have something to talk about. What we want to know is: what does it mean?

Wouldn't it be a fine thing to have a small committee of the wisest men of the realm sit down and tell us honestly what the real issues are?

If the voter knew, he might be trusted to act with at least fair, if not extraordinary, intelligence.

Food

By IDAH McCLONE GIBSON

"We are paying much more attention to what we eat than grandmothers did," I said the other day at an afternoon tea.

"It seems to me," remarked another woman, "that we are always talking about what we eat."

"Yes, but when our grandmothers had made the heavy mince pies, fried the crullers and made the rich cake, all they thought necessary was to think of other delectable and deleterious things to tickle the palate of those who gathered around the table three times a day to gorge themselves with food whose only recommendation was its richness and tastefulness."

The man who said that "we dig our graves with our teeth" told the world something.

I think the time will come when we will recognize that almost all our chronic physical ills come from wrong diet. Already the doctors give very little medicine, and almost the first question they ask is what are you eating.

Instead of some terrible physic that tears your insides, they recommend spinach, rhubarb, onions and quarts of pure, cool water. Instead of cod-liver-oil for tuberculosis it is milk and cream and plenty of eggs. Instead of medicines for anemia, plenty of the plebian liver. Instead of powders and pills for intestinal troubles, sauerkraut.

Then there are the different foods that are cut out. For diabetes no sugar or the starchy foods that make sugar; little meat at any time. For high blood pressure no meat, many leafy vegetables, as lettuce, cabbage, etc. For nervous affections celery, lettuce and onions.

By a little study one can hit upon a diet that will keep one well which is much better than taking nauseous medicines to make one well after one has become ill by eating the wrong things and the wrong combinations.

And now comes along a man who has made some wonderful experiments along the line of water drinking. He says that he has cured many insane people by making them drink and bathe in just pure everyday water. Of course water cures are not new but they have been neglected for a long time.

It would seem as though the jury who called Remus insane, should have recommended a good sound trial of the water cure in his case.

CLUB WOMEN AT WORK

Conducted By The Woman's Club Of New Castle

The "Mary Sherman Forest" continues to grow. The 8th District of The Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs planted a Missouri oak tree in Forest Park, St. Louis, as a living growing tribute to the retiring President of the General Federation to commemorate her achievements in forest preservation, the conservation of natural resources and toward the establishment of natural parks and playgrounds. The tree was a gift from the Park Department of St. Louis and was presented by the Mayor of that city, Victor J. Miller.

The Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs has been doing a remarkable piece of public health work. In all the state-wide health programs undertaken, they have had the approval and support of the State Dept. of Health. The first state wide activity was the securing of the Birth Registration test about 15 years ago. Up to that time, the rate of birth registration was low. Now Ohio compares favorably with other states in this line. Baby week campaigns, weighing and measuring tests of children, child health conferences, and the active support of the Maternity-Infancy Act with others of similar nature were supported by the Ohio Federation by organizing community wide campaigns. Ohio won the nation wide contest instituted by the General Federation of the State showing the greatest percentage of clubs making a study of Public Health, one month's expert service from each—the American Public Health Association and the American Child Health Association. Much has been accomplished by the women's clubs making a concerted effort in creating a desire for public health work.

The General Federation's Home Equipment Survey has revealed what little use of scientific research has been made in lightening the tasks of the home-maker. They have brought together in the Home Equipment Primer, by picture and description, what science and industry have developed that is valuable to the home-maker. The primer is adapted not only to the needs of the city dweller but to the farms and the small towns. The Primer not only gives a description of the equipment but a range of prices on each.

It is interesting to know that Mrs. Flavia Camp Canfield, mother of the writer, Dorothy Canfield Fisher, was the first president of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs. At the age of 80, she went, unattended on a four month tour of the world. She has written a little book "Around the World at 80" dedicated "To My Descendants and to all Octogenarians." It is a collection of the letters written to her family and friends while on this tour. Nothing shows Mrs. Canfield's unconquerable spirit better than the following poem of hers:

"At Seventy-seven"

I am old.
I am blear-eyed.
I am toothless.
Am I decrepit?
I am not!

Should I whimper?
Should I lie down?
Should I knit in the corner?
I will not!

Death waits
At my elbow
Let him wait.
While I scribble and daub.
Snatch me daunted and shaking,
He shall not!

Amazing what this simple change in diet can accomplish!

Make the personal health test and prove it!

THIS health test isn't for sick people. It is for people who, like yourself, are outwardly well. People who are carrying on their daily work, yet who, for some strange reason, have lost some of the joy in living that should be theirs. Some of them don't sleep as they should. Some are irritable and depressed when they should be happy. Some suffer from headaches and indigestion.

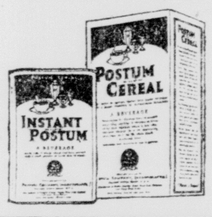

Make this simple change in diet: Give up caffein—let Postum be your mealtime drink for thirty days! Then measure your physical gains! See how soundly you sleep! See how refreshed and alert you are in the morning! No more restless nights, no more draggy, headachy days! You'll feel worlds better!

A delicious drink, too!

You'll lose nothing in mealtime enjoyment by changing to Postum. Instead, you'll find it a hot, hearty drink with a rich, distinctive flavor—a flavor millions prefer to that of any other drink.

Your grocer has Postum in two forms—Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup, and Postum Cereal, prepared by boiling. Both are the same delightful drink—made of roasted whole wheat and bran. No trace of any artificial stimulant in them! Both cost much less than most other mealtime drinks. Order today—start the 30-day test!

THRASHER GIVES ADVICE TO THE FARMER

"How do I like it Brown Thrasher?" cried Peter. "Why, more than I can tell you! Your performance was wonderful! But, then, as far as that goes, so was Catbird's, and if I had my choice I should go to the concert Catbird gives instead of to yours every time. You are so conceited that it takes away much of the pleasure of listening to your singing."

"Don't you sass me, Boy, or I'll peck out your eye," Thrasher was angry indeed.

"Oh, no, you will not, Cousin," interrupted Catbird, quickly. "Not if I can help it, and I think I could. But what is the use of us scrapping on a beautiful day like this? Your voice is wonderful, everyone knows that! And I sing well enough to suit myself, so why should either of us worry?"

"It is all very well for you to talk like that, Cousin!" exclaimed Brown Thrasher, "but you have not been spoken to as I have! I do not intend to stay here a moment longer. I have a very nervous disposition, as you well know, and I should thrash my tail off if I had to listen to any more insults from a Two-Legs. I shall save my voice next time for a more appreciative audience."

Darting an angry glance at Peter, back over the garden wall flew Brown Thrasher.

"Queer, but nothing that Cousin Thrasher says ever ruffles my feathers," remarked Catbird, gazing after him. "I don't care a bread crumb which of us sings the best! Odd though, it certainly does matter a lot to him."

"Yes, doesn't it," agreed the boy readily. "But to change the subject, would you mind telling me what makes him lash about so with his tail?"

"That is a hard question to answer, friend. To tell you the truth I don't believe I ever heard." Catbird fluttered his wings with a thoughtful air. "I shouldn't wonder if Thrasher does that because he has such an excitable nature—nervous, as he told you. But of one thing I am very sure, that habit of his—and it is a family trait, he just can't keep his tail still—is what has given him his name, Thrasher. Now if you will excuse me, I think that I will leave you. It is some time since I have seen my little wife and I never like to be away from her for very long at a stretch."

Catbird was just about ready to make off when suddenly a voice from above their heads caused both the bird and the boy to look up.

"And that isn't all that I can do, either! You may not know it, boy, but I am a general director in planting time. Why, if it was not for me I can't imagine what the farmers would do. 'Shuck it! Shuck it!' cry I. And off from the cob come the kernels. 'Sow it! Plow it! Hoe it' I tell the farmer what to do and Mr. Farmer does as I command him every time. I forgot to tell you this before, boy, I couldn't go away without having you know what a smart fellow I am."

Brown Thrasher, for it was he, cocked his head upon one side with an important air as much as to say, "There, now are you satisfied that I am cleverer than Cousin Catbird?"

"SHUCK IT! SOW IT! PLOW IT! HOE IT!" CRY I, AND MR FARMER DOES AS I TELL HIM, EVERY TIME."

Then without another word off he flew.

Peter laughed until the tears rolled down his cheeks. Brown Thrasher had appeared so unexpectedly and had looked so comical bobbing about on the top of the wall. Peter turned to speak to Catoird, when, much to his astonishment, he found that jolly mocker had disappeared, too.

Will Handle Clothing, Furnishings And Shoes For Men And Boys

Announcement has been made that a new business partnership has been formed here and on Thursday a new store to be known as Reynolds, Summers & McCann will open formally in the rooms formerly occupied by the Cooper & Butler company, which recently went out of business after having been in existence since 1891.

Formerly the firm was known as Reynolds, Thorn & Summers and more recently as Reynolds & Summers. On February 4 the new partnership, which now includes Joseph S. McCann, was formed. All of the members—Reynolds, Summers and McCann—have spent practically all their lives in the clothing business.

Associated with the new firm will be Joe Alexander, Steve Griffith, T. Al Paterson and Ernest Criswell, all well known salesmen of the Cooper & Butler and Reynolds & Summers stores. The new store will be opened Thursday with a complete line of clothing, furnishings and shoes for men and boys.

It was on February 8, 1891, that a partnership was formed between Captain J. H. Cooper and B. F. Butler for the purpose of taking over the clothing business of Meyer Louer, at what is now 116 East Washington street.

Captain Cooper had been associated with Mr. Louer for several years prior, while Mr. Butler had been employed as foreman of the News composing room for approximately 12 years.

The business of the firm was successful from the beginning, largely owing to the personal following of Captain Cooper, who had formerly been sheriff of Lawrence county and who was a man of pleasing address and personality.

The partnership was closed in March, 1906, by the death of Captain Cooper and a new firm formed of Mr. Butler, Chester P. Reynolds and Charles H. Van Fleet.

Mr. Reynolds had been employed by Mr. Louer and had continued steadily in the business until he entered the new association on the death of Mr. Cooper.

Mr. Van Fleet also had been in the employ of Cooper & Butler since shortly after the firm began operation and the business was continued under the name of Cooper & Butler.

In February, 1922, Mr. Reynolds retired from the partnership and with Frank C. Summers and Frank Thorn formed a new corporation known as Reynolds, Thorn & Summers.

Mr. Summers had been in the employ of Cooper & Butler for eight years and Mr. Thorn for a lesser period. Mr. Thorn retired from the organization within a year or two after its formation, leaving the firm of Reynolds & Summers which since has conducted a very successful business.

On the retirement of Mr. Reynolds, Joseph S. McCann was taken into the Cooper & Butler concern as junior partner, having been in their employ for more than 25 years.

On February 4, last, a new partnership was formed consisting of Messrs Reynolds, Summers and McCann who have taken the fixtures and rooms of the Cooper & Butler company, Mr. Butler and Mr. VanFleet retiring from the firm.

The members of the new organization have spent the greater portion of their lives in the clothing business. They are New Castle men with the best interests of the city at heart and with their large following, together with their established principles of honest and fair dealing, a well deserved and successful business career is bound to result.

Triangles Tie With Warrenites

Monday evening in the Washington Junior High school at Niles, O., the Triagles of the local Y. W. C. A. played a return game with the "Warrenites" of Warren, O. The basketball game was good, with the Triangles in a very short lead throughout the entire game, except at one time in the second half when the Warren team was one point ahead.

Playing time was just about ended, with the Triangles leading by four points when Hewitt and Jackson of the Warren team made two fine baskets, tying the score just as the whistle blew. The Triangles as a team, played a very good game, considering that they played two court rules, when customarily they follow three court rules. The final score was 31 to 31.

The summary.

SCHOOL PLAYE JINGLES

By R. V. S.

A fool there was and he vowed a vow,
Ever as you or I—
That a high school play was a dull affair,
That the acting was punk and the plots thread-bare
And a perfectly good evening could be wasted there.
And he told all his friends that he wouldn't go
If they paid him a bonus and carfare—no! no!
But his friends and his neighbors who had been there before
Said the show was O. K. and they'd go and go more.
What a fool there was!

State Health Department Head Warns Of Measles

"The spirit of indifference is a powerful slayer" said Doctor Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health today. "No matter how much attention people pay to other life interests, unconcern is prominently present where health is involved. The careless attitude is one of the hardest obstacles for preventive medicine to overcome.

"Take, for instance, the question of measles. The attitude of many parents toward this condition is that children must 'get it,' that at worst it is a quarantinable disease more or less harmless and therefore the sooner their progeny acquire it the sooner it will be out of the way. This however is the logic of ignorance.

"Measles is the most prevalent of the contagious diseases and is outstandingly an affliction associated with childhood. One-half of the reported cases in Pennsylvania occur in children under five years of age, in which age limit approximately 90 percent of all the measles deaths occur. Moreover nine-tenths of the total number of reported cases were in children under ten years of age.

"There are some facts that should rout indifference on this important subject:

"1. As a cause of childhood deaths under 15 years of age, according to the latest available figures, it ranks first in Pennsylvania.

"2. If children live through it this disease is likely to leave its mark in the form of crippling conditions.

"3. Its ready communicability is due to its infectious power in the early stage before the appearance of the eruption when some of the symptoms are very like those of the common cold and consequently are mistaken for it.

"4. Mild cases are frequently not reported but are powerful to infect others.

"A rather vicious disease, after all! What is to be done about it? Consider the following suggestions:

"1. Avoid all possibilities under your control of subjecting your children to infection. Stay out of quarantined homes and keep your little ones from them too.

"2. Any condition that resembles a cold in an infant or young child demands advice by a doctor. Thus the disease is early discovered, easier treated and the possibility of infecting others greatly reduced. In this connection measles should be especially suspected in a child who commences to cough or to sneeze if known cases of measles exist in the neighborhood.

"3. Parents should offer complete co-operation with the health authorities respecting quarantine. This will not only save the lives of your children but those of others. All cases must be reported.

"The above rules are not difficult to follow. However if it were possible to get parents to adhere strictly to them the measles problem would be conspicuously reduced, many lives saved and resultant conditions eliminated. Fight measles!"

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Even the most modest of new houses in suburbs adjacent to New York now boast two car garages, which I submit as an illuminating fact in the survey of the American scene. Evidently the builders are conniving with the advertising men to make the public "two car conscious." Hence the space for two motors is attached to many of the lower priced semi-Spanish-early-American villas in our midst. It seems to be the idea of owning two cars is distressingly incongruous unless the manse attached is a pretentious one. I should not feel equal to the grandeur unless I had at least a million salted carefully away somewhere. But perhaps when my son grows up and acquires a hand painted flivver of the 1927 variety, I shall need, also to become "two car conscious" and build an addition.

Someone is always wanting to know what happens to beauty contest winners after they are crowned Miss Something-or-Other and appear vaguely for a week or so in half a yard of batik in some revue. The Atlantic City girl winners, it has been my observation, usually get a good front row job in the "Follies" and keep it. Beautiful but not so terrifically brilliant, they undulate in and out of the Ziegfeld tableaux without ever getting anywhere in particular, so far as eminence in the drama is concerned. It is seldom they can be taught to speak musically or even clearly enough to be heard beyond row C. Then there are the girls brought to the fore by newspaper contests, conducted either in New York or smaller cities. Three of these, to my knowledge, drifted from the stage to demonstrating beauty creams in department stores. One has vanished from the picture to marry the conventional, hard-working suitor of the fiction stories. The prize money utterly spoiled another. She found the possession of $5,000 too dazzling, and it turned her head. On the whole, the effect of beauty contests is not a healthy one. If I were Lord Mayor of the community, I might do something to stop the vicious practice.

I find these "off the face" helmets all the girls are wearing this season most disconcerting. They give the wearer a surprised look which is a strain when you encounter one after another on the avenue. Too much of the brow is exposed by this unkind fashion, and I observe in a current article on the subject, the helmet wearers are forbidden to drag forth even one small curl to soften the effect.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

For one interested in sociology or the study of human emotions, a criminal court is one of the finest places in the world. Here are found men and women who have transgressed upon the laws of society, men and women who are called to sit in judgment upon them, witnesses who must give their testimony as to what happened, and the usual list of spectators.

In the past eight years I have sat through many score of criminal cases, the list would run into hundreds. Assault, bootlegging, burglary, arson and murder, all of them have passed through the mill wheels of justice up on the hill, and always I have wondered what passed through the mind of the accused person as the array of evidence was marshalled by the commonwealth.

There seems to be a stoical expression among the criminals who have committed felonies, an expression that seems to mask their feelings, a blank look so to speak past which it is hard to penetrate.

Talk to them in the court room or the cell, before the trial or after and there is that same look, except of course where the defendant has been acquitted. Then comes relief.

In court all Monday afternoon and the usual crowd was present. A couple of law students, a handful of men who had nothing to do and came to court out of idle interest, a few women who just wanted to hear a law suit, the witnesses, the jury panel, and the usual list of court attaches.

Court room number two has a novel gavel which has been presented to it, and which Court Crier J. Dick Long handles in his usual efficient manner. It is a piece of the rail rack owned by the famed Jeff Davis of the Southern Confederacy. Frank Geiger carved the gavel out of the historic hat rack and it is now a part of Judge Chambers court.

George Chip, ex-middleweight champion of the world has an interesting letter in his possession from "Snowy" Baker. To those of you who do not know, Snowy Baker is an Australian sportsman, at one time a member of the Australian parliament and the promoter of the George Chip-Les Darcy fight years ago. Four years ago a story was printed saying that Baker was dead but it was wrong. At the present time he is a resident of Santa Monica, Cal., and is interested in polo.

Going down to Pittsburgh tonight? The special train should be well crowded for this will be a basketball game, no foolin'. As to who will win, what's your opinion about the weather for next Labor Day? Monessen has a real basketball team and if New Castle comes back with a victory, this colyum will admit that the local team can buck heavy odds and come through. Here's hoping.

Brings Better Health to Thin Blooded Folks

NEWEST DISCOVERY
Hemo-Liver

A big 12 ounce bottle of Hemo-Liver sells for $2.00—this would be a high price for a patent medicine—but Hemo-Liver is not a patent medicine.

It contains the red blood making vital element of vitamines extracted from beef livers and is an expensive formula to produce.

But what matters the price to any thin blooded, weak, rundown man or woman when every druggist in America is authorized to return the purchase price if one bottle (8 days' treatment) doesn't prove to you that Hemo-Liver will restore to you the rich red blood cells your frail body is starving for and bring back health, vitality, energy and old time ambition in fullest measure.

Beef liver is full of red blood making vitamines, eat plenty of it.

You can get Hemo-Liver at Love & Megown.

State Will Spend $53,000,000 For Roads During 1928 Season

International News Service.

HARRISBURG, Mar. 13.—Divisional meetings and technical discussions today were on the program as the second session of four hundred field engineers and employes of the State Highway Department, meeting here for instruction before opening the season's state program.

The engineers were told by W. A. Vanduser, assistant chief State Engineer that Pennsylvania will spend $53,000,000 on road work during the 1928 season. This program includes approximately 150 miles more work than last season.

THE NEW KONJOLO MEDICINE PRAISED BY NOTED DOCTOR

Ohio Physician Strongly Indorses New Compound; Konjola Man Busy At Love & Megown Drug Store.

DR. GEO. H. SPRIGGS

A remarkable report has been received which shows more clearly than ever the unusual value of this celebrated medical preparation, Konjola, which the Konjola Man is now introducing to large crowds of men and women at the Love & Megown drug store, 204 East Washington Street, New Castle.

The report received is signed by Dr. Geo. H. Spriggs, 2215 Inwood Place, Cincinnati, Ohio, has gained fame because of his distinguished service as major in the world war. Dr. Spriggs, who has an Edinburg degree, stated that this surprising Konjola medicine has completely showed its power in so many cases of suffering that he wants everybody to know about it. He gave a detailed report of the work of Konjola and also offered his photograph for publication.

"In helping Nature," said this prominent doctor, "Konjola is far above many older known remedies. I first tried it in a case of kidney trouble—frequently getting up at nights. The man who took it came back the fourth day and said he had slept all through the previous night. I learned afterward that he had been doctoring over ten years for his trouble. I learned of a man who badly left his house for over two years. He had been crippled with rheumatism, swollen joints and stiff, aching limbs, and agonizing pains. He completed a treatment of Konjola and said he walked a distance of nearly a mile. This, of course, was about three weeks after he completed Konjola. From this case I believed this medicine would do wonders with neuritis, and I recommended it to a lady who said she had tried everything for this suffering. She had tried mineral baths, electric treatments and medicine upon medicine. It took only five weeks of the Konjola to completely end her trouble, and she has never had a return of the neuritis pains.

"I next treated a woman who had been in bed 2 days out of 3, every week, suffering intense pains, caused from gas bloating and sourness, which had been getting worse in years past. She said in 5 years she had spent several thousand dollars to be healthy. She took Konjola, began to eat heartily of many things she hadn't dared to touch before, in years. The food agreed with her and she continued a few weeks longer, and gained nearly 20 pounds. She says she feels ten years younger, and her appearance certainly shows it. I had another lady tell me Konjola did more good for her than 4 years of special dieting. She took Konjola for nervousness and a general rundown system.

"When Konjola is taken into the human system, there are a score or more of different herbal ingredients and each one of them has a certain duty to perform on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. The cleansing and invigorating of these important organs is what seems to bring such amazing relief and new feelings of health. I heartily recommend it and consider it a real God-send to those who suffer ill-health."

The Konjola Man is at the Love & Megown drug store, 204 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

TIMELY MESSAGE BY EVANGELIST

Rev. Walker Talks On "Why Millions Now Living Will Never Die"

The special series of evangelistic meetings that are being held at the Central Christian church by Evangelist Walker entered the third week with the meeting last night.

Samuel Lewis, renowned singing evangelist, whose work has resulted in great things for the kingdom, was present and assumed charge of the large choir that is leading the music in the campaign, led off with a great song service and sang a solo which merited many worthy compliments.

Evangelist Walker at the beginning of his sermon read many passages of Scripture from First Thessalonians, fourth chapter, after which he gave a short exegesis of these passages, began the discussion of the subject, "Why Millions Now Living Will Never Die." He related the fake movement that was pulled off in Alabama a few years ago when so many souls were deceived concerning the coming of Christ and after the faker had received their money he disappeared. During the entire sermon the evangelist did not hesitate to refer very often to the Word of God and proved conclusively that Christ was coming again and those asleep would be awakened to be with Him forever.

The service begins tonight at 7:30 and the subject of "Sand Foundations" will be discussed.

A delegation from the First Christian church will attend this evening.

JUST BUNK

"Dusky maidens who look so seductive on the stage and in magazine pictures are often untidy, malodorous persons." "Thatched houses shelter snakes, scorpions, spiders and other vermin." These remarks from Jack McLaren's article in the Magazine Section of Next Sunday's World "De-bunking the South Sea Isles," tell the real story. If, like most people, you have an idea that the chief features of the South Sea Islands are romance and high adventure, read this very interesting article in next Sunday's World.

Owner Of Still Is Held For Court

Michael Dryzopolski was given a hearing before Alderman J. Lee Cooper Monday on a charge of violating the Snyder act by manufacturing liquor. After hearing all the testimony available, Alderman Cooper held Dryzopolski for court. Attorney Charles Davis, counsel for the defendant, contended that as there was no evidence of sales and for that reason there was no right for the officers to search the Dryzopolski home and that the arrest was illegal. In spite of his objections, his client was held for court.

BEAUTY'S SECRET IS IN HEALTH

Every woman is entitled to two of the greatest elements of beauty—an attractive form and a good complexion. Scrawniness is never beautiful, however well hidden it may be. Nor is a sallow, colorless skin. Yet how many women go through life mortified by either or both of these defects!

Some consolation may be found in the fact that scrawny, sallow people are not well. If they were, Nature would provide the soft curves of a good form and the clear attractive texture of a good complexion.

What to Do for Beauty

These are absent because the bodily processes of digestion and elimination are not working right. No matter what the reason may be, World's Tonic will help on the way to be beautiful. This wonderful medicine will clear up the blood, relieve clogging of the bowels and skin, and purify the complexion as well as tone up the digestion, so that normal weight may be regained. Thousands have been wonderfully benefited by its use.

World's Tonic is sold by Paisley's, McKee's Kut Rate Store, Smith's, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all other good druggists. (221)

Agricultural Extension Fund For Pennsylvania Likely To Be Increased

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 13.—Pennsylvania will get an additional $10,000 a year from the Federal Government for agricultural extension work if the Senate passes a bill the House of Representatives has already adopted.

This bill doubles the amount authorized to be given outright to each state for county farm extension work, under the Smith-Lever Act of 1914, raising it from $10,000 to $20,000 a year. It does not affect other appropriations under this law, and the other appropriations are larger than this $960,000 appropriation.

Pennsylvania now gets $336,987.38 from the Federal Government for all agricultural extension work, and the state, counties, and other local agencies to contribute $326,987.38.

If the bill raising from $480,000 to $960,000 the amount appropriated for this particular section of the work goes through, the amount allotted to Pennsylvania for educational work under the Smith-Lower Act will be $50,907.84.

In reporting the bill favorably, the House Committee on Agriculture described the work and the advantages to be derived from it as follows:

"The States and counties are now appropriating $1.94 for each dollar which the Federal Government appropriates. A large number of counties in the United States are asking for county home demonstration agents and county agents, and are ready to contribute their share of support, but existing Federal and State appropriations are not sufficient to meet the demand for this important phase of extension work, thus indicating the demand for further cooperative extension work. The Federal Government appropriates a total of $7,398,440.79, or 38.2 per cent. The States appropriates $5,239,420.54, or 27 per cent; while the counties appropriate $6,756,777.69, or 34.8 per cent.

"The extension system is less than one half completed at the present time. In order to complete the system and provide for extension agents in all the counties requiring them, there is a further need of the employment of 700 county agricultural agents; at least 1,500 county home demonstration agents; and approximately 1,650 club agents and assistant agents to conduct boys' and girls' 4-H Club work.

"Approximately 30 per cent of our people live on farms. They constitute a great producing power and a great buying power. If they suffer losses and reverses, the whole nation responds accordingly. The county extension agents, for which this bill provides, help reduce the cost of production and increase the farmers' profits; they help fight disease among livestock and insect pests among our principal crops. They demonstrate how to make farm homes attractive and comfortable. They introduce labor-saving equipment and other home conveniences and necessities, and incidentally create a market for the same. They organize and supervise the farm boys' and girls' 4-H Clubs which are doing so much to stimulate the minds and activities of our rural youths and guide them aright."

PROTEST AGAINST MEADVILLE PLANT

FRANKLIN, Pa., March 13.—Mayor M. A. Drake and manufacturing plants on French creek today protested vigorously to Dr. Theodore Appel, secretary of health, Harrisburg, against threatened pollution of creek waters by the building at Meadville of a new rayon silk plant.

According to reports reaching here, the plant will require 3,000,000 gallons of water daily, drawing this from French creek and then discharging it, impregnating it with chemicals.

Job cursed the day he was born and that's a record, of course, but modern juveniles run him him a close second.

Siamese Twins

The Biggest Attraction Ever Appearing in New Castle Pleases Large Crowd Last Night at Penn Theatre.

Hundreds of New Castle people were well pleased last night with the great attraction, San Antonio's Siamese Twins, Daisy and Violet Hilton, two pretty little girls with long curls and equally as well talented, being able to sing, dance and play musical instruments with ease. Assisted by two other twins, the Burns brothers, who sure do love to dance, as you will readily see in their appearance on the stage at the Penn theatre.

During an interview last night the Hilton sisters stated they were born in England 18 years ago coming to this country at the age of 4 years, making San Antonio, Texas their home, from which they derive the name San Antonio's Twins. Although being in this city since Sunday morning they have seen quite a bit of New Castle already, as they take a delight in riding around in the fresh air and seemed amazed that a city the size of New Castle is featuring their act, as they have been playing the larger cities.

Arrangements are being made whereby the Hilton sisters at their own request, will visit the hospitals, Margaret Henry Home and other places during their engagement at the Penn theatre. They seemed very much interested in knowing whether New Castle had a home for cripple children, that they might go there and entertain them while here.

Kotex Reduces Prices

A few months ago, as a means of winning a million new users for Kotex so as to expedite a nation-wide distribution of the new Improved Kotex, we made a special offer of one box of Kotex free with every two boxes purchased for 98c. This sale is now ended.

So overwhelming was the response to this offer that we doubled our output and are thereby now able to announce a permanent 30% reduction in the regular price of Kotex when sold by the box.

These two exclusive new features have doubled Kotex sales:

1 A new, form-fitting shape . . . corners are now scientifically rounded and tapered so that you wear it under the most clinging gowns without possibility of detection, without marring smooth, fashionable lines.

2 It is softer, too—fluffier—eliminating unpleasant chafing and binding.

& . . . RETAINING ALL THE FEATURES AND PROTECTION OF THE KOTEX YOU HAVE ALWAYS KNOWN.

TO meet the immediate and overwhelming response of women to the two exclusive new features of Kotex we have been obliged to double our manufacturing facilities.

This fact and the introduction in our plants of our new, patented machinery enables us to announce, effective today, a reduction of 30% in the regular price at which Kotex will be sold to all drug and dry goods stores.

Before making a permanent reduction in price, and as a means of getting nation-wide distribution of the Improved Kotex, for several months we made a special offer of 2 boxes of Kotex at 98c and one box free.

Now with the assurance of a doubled volume at lower prices, the regular price of single packages of Kotex is reduced 30%. Without this doubled volume the Improved Kotex would have to be sold at higher rather than lower prices.

RARELY is a manufacturer able to offer better goods and lower prices at the same time.

Two years of exacting work in our laboratories by designers and chemists (in cooperation with women doctors) led to the perfection of the Improved Kotex.

With the presentation of the new style Kotex, exclusive in design, comes the most radical development in intimate feminine hygiene since the invention of Kotex itself. The features we have developed are exclusive to Kotex—are found in no other sanitary pad.

What form-fitting means

By a unique process, developed only after months of experiment, corners are now scientifically rounded and tapered so that the pad fits snugly, comfortably, securely. Closest-fitting gowns retain their slim, smooth lines.

This brings a composure, a sense of well-being, heretofore impossible.

Softer—fluffier—chafing eliminated

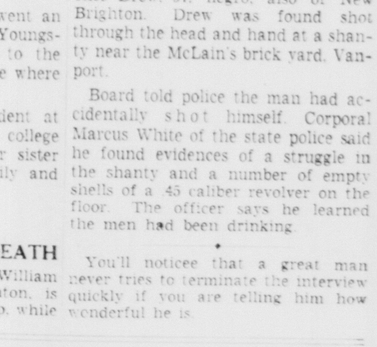

Now, exclusive methods have been found for making the absorbent filler still softer. Chafing, binding, similar discomforts are eliminated.

27 women doctors, 83 nurses cooperated enthusiastically

During the past two years 27 women doctors, 83 nurses in leading hospitals, in City Health Departments, in Welfare Departments, were consulted. Six specialists in feminine hygiene suggested and approved ideas.

All former advantages retained

The remarkably absorbent powers of Kotex remain; the same protective area is there. Cellucotton wadding, which is exclusive to Kotex, has all the advantages of any waterproofed absorbent, plus its own unique qualities. It discards like tissue — you simply follow directions in each box; it deodorizes thoroughly while being worn.

New prices effective today

Today—the new prices are in effect. We have built new plants, constructed expensive new machinery on a double scale, anticipating that your approval and enthusiasm would match ours.

You buy Kotex by name at any drug, dry goods or department store, without embarrassment, without delay. It comes in two sizes, Regular and Kotex-Super. Supplied also through vending cabinets in rest-rooms by West Disinfecting Co.

MAN HELD PENDING PROBE OF DEATH

BEAVER, Pa., March 13.—William Board, 40, negro, New Brighton, is held at the Beaver Falls lockup, while authorities probe the death of Clarence Drew, 37, negro, also of New Brighton. Drew was found shot through the head and hand at a shanty near the McLain's brick yard, Vanport.

Board told police the man had accidentally shot himself. Corporal Marcus White of the state police said he found evidences of a struggle in the shanty and a number of empty shells of a .45 caliber revolver on the floor. The officer says he learned the men had been drinking.

You'll noticee that a great man never tries to terminate the interview quickly if you are telling him how wonderful he is.

Trinity Choir To Present Cantata

Large Chorus To Give "The Darkest Hour" Wednesday Evening At 8 O'clock

Tomorrow evening in Trinity church, corner of North Mill and East Falls streets, the annual Lenten Cantata will be sung by the choir under the direction of Paul Browne Patterson. Many of the most prominent singers in Lawrence county will assist. The hour is 8 o'clock.

The purpose is to increase devotion to Christ through the beautiful art of music in contemplation of His supreme sacrifice for us.

This year the cantata chosen is the one which has been selected in by the organists and choirmasters of some of the leading New York churches, such as St. Thomas', Fifth avenue, where the world famous Dr. T. Tertius Noble is in charge of the music. It is "The Darkest Hour," by Harold Moore.

The cantata will be preceded by a very short service, followed by offering, closing prayers, benediction, and recessional.

Deputy Governor Speaks To Lions

Allegheny College Professor Makes Address At Noon Meeting

What America needs most at this time, is true patriots and true patriotism, not of the fanatical sort, but the love of country of thinking men, was the gist of the speech made before the New Castle Den of Lions by District Deputy Governor T. G. Henke professor of philosophy at Allegheny college when the Lions met for their weekly luncheon today at noon in the Elks club.

"There is a great deal written and a great deal said about these United States," Professor Henke went on, "It is my belief that this country is not going bad financially, for figures belie this statement astoundingly.

"But the real danger is the need of a type of patriotism which so far we have failed to get. This is a government of, by and for the people, and we must get out of ourselves and into the group point of view.

"Patriots may be classified either as the indifferent sort, who are either too selfish or too ignorant to take much of an interest in the doings of their country, the fanatically patriotic, and the ceremonially patriotic. But, there is a fourth type, the salt of the earth and the lights of the world. They are the thoughtful, socialized part of the mass, who realize that security of life, limb, property and liberty are at stake.

"Service clubs of all sorts, I believe, do more to foster this type of patriotism than any other organizations. They are the melting pots with possibilities for even larger and better service. And we must remember that it is the thoughful man who aids the program of progress for his community and his country."

Professor Henke also stated that as deputy governor he would do all in his power to get the 1928 Lion state convention to come to New Castle. Officers of the Butler and Beaver Falls clubs, who were among those present, also pledged their support. It is expected that New Castle will entertain close to 1,000 delegates at this time.

The club also was invited to the birthday party of the East Liberty Lions club, which will be held on the evening of March 21.

DAM GIVES WAY NEAR LOS ANGELES; VALLEY IS FLOODED

ony, were driven from the actor's ranch near Saugus when the flood waters crept up a small canyon within a few feet of the camp commissary.

Most of the Indians reached Saugus, while some of the movie Indians joined rescue parties which headed north into the flooded area.

Employes Missing

A report from Ventura said officials of the Southern California Edison company had been able to account for only 75 of its 175 employes at the company's camp near Piru.

Theories, first advanced by authorities, that the break in the 208-foot concrete dam which held back some 38,000 acre feet of water in San Francisco Quito canyon had been caused by either dynamite or by an earthquake, were discredited here today.

D. C. Matthews of Saugus, employed as a laborer at the San Francisco Quito power house, late yesterday reported he found the soil at the foot and the center of the huge dam to be in mushy condition.

The big intake gates were closed immediately. At the time there was more than 200 feet or water standing behind the arc-angle concrete wall.

Reports Meagre

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—Meagre reports received by the sheriff's office today indicated that there had been considerable loss of life when a dam went out near Newhall, 45 miles north of here.

First reports said the St. Francis Dam had gone out and that a wall of water had rushed down the little valley below wiping out seven or eight small villages and unknown number of ranch homes.

The sheriff's office was unable to state the cause of the crumpling of the dam as means of communication with the affected district were scant.

The structure known as St. Francis dam was located in San Francisco canyon, north of Saugus in the Santa Clara valley.

Rescue workers were reported to have reached the scene from New Hall in advices to the sheriff's office.

"We do not know how many were caught in the flood but bodies are already being removed," said one message received from a deputy sheriff.

Los Angeles Water System

The dam is a part of the water system of Los Angeles. It was 80 feet high and impounded 38,000 acres of water.

One report said an earthquake had caused the dam to go out and another, equally unconfirmed, said the dam had been dynamited.

Officials near the scene said they were unable to check on account of darkness.

Power, telephone and telegraph lines were carried out by the rush of water down the canyon.

The water was reported to have turned through the Santa Paula valley and to have emptied into the ocean at Ventura.

Greenoaks, Fillmore and Pierce were among the villages reported to have been inundated by the wall of water which swept down the valley.

Bert Unick, a rancher living near the big ranch of Harry Carey, motion picture star, reported that his two little children Jess and Alyce had lost their lives when his home was swept away. He was rescued by a neighbor, he told the sheriff's sub-office at New Hall.

"I heard the rushing of water," he said, "and got up and went out in my night clothes to investigate. I was caught in the rush of water and my home swirled away with my two children in it. A neighbor heard my cries and helped pull me out."

J. A. Lauriston, a garage man at Saugus, reported before telephone communication with that place was broken that a wall of water was sweeping down on that town.

Death Toll Mounts

LOS ANGELES, March 13—The toll of life and damage taken when the waters of San Francisquito canyon burst through the 208-foot St. Francis dam near Saugus early this morning and flooded farm and ranch lands in Santa Paula Valley 14 miles below mounted today as reports trickled in here over crippled wire facilities.

The cost of human life taken by the disaster has been variously estimated at between 100 and 300 persons believed to have been drowned in the on-rushing waters.

Some authorities believe a complete check will reduce the toll of life feared taken.

Property damage done to the St. Francis dam and the power plant two miles below, both owned by the city of Los Angeles, was placed at $3,500,000.

Report Untrue

First reports to the Southern Pacific headquarters here that 63 bodies had been recovered from the flooded area are later proved to be unfounded.

Officials of the railroad, however, said there agents had accounted for 15 bodies in the vicinity of Saugus and that the death toll in this district probably would not exceed thirty lives.

Hoover Strength At Convention Is Worrying Leaders

Only Three Months Until Big G. O. P. Convention Opens In Kansas City

CABINET MEMBER APPEARS STRONG

Dawes Candidacy Unannounced, But Leaders See Strength For Vice President

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 13. — In three months the Republican National convention meets in Kansas City to nominate a candidate for the presidency.

At this stage, with twelve weeks to go and before a single primary has afforded an insight into the electoral mind, it is concededly Hoover against the field, with many Republican leaders asking themselves in all seriousness: "Can Hoover be stopped?"

The Hoover handlers say no. But the anti-Hoover people, which includes the adherents of every other candidate in the list, Lowden, Dawes, Curtis, Watson, Willis, have a different answer. They willingly concede that at this early stage the lead which the cabinet candidate has built up through one of the most efficient organizations on record is a commanding one, but they say that Hoover can be stopped and will be stopped at Kansas City. The events of the next eight or ten weeks may reveal who is wrong.

A minimum of 400 votes on the first ballot at Kansas City was claimed today by the Hoover managers, and they cited known facts and figures and commitments to back up their claim. A total of 545 is necessary to nominate. But while the 400 was claimed as a minimum, it was admitted at the same time that the maximum, as of today, is not much greater than that.

Hoover Strength Grows

The greatest comfort which the Hoover managers have is that their tables of potential strength show votes from every corner of the country—from Maine to California, and from Michigan to the Southern states that line the Gulf.

In contrast, they point to the more sectionalized strength of ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden, the foremost and strongest candidate that has appeared to challenge the progress of the Hoover movement.

Lowden's delegate strength, as of today, they figure at roughly 200 in the initial balloting, nearly all of which come from the insurgent and peevish grain belt, from Illinois to the Dakotas. The Lowden people do not claim much more than that at this stage.

In the background is the Dawes candidacy, unnounced, apparently immobile, and yet of such menacing potentialities that Hoover backers see it lurking in ever shadow. If, as the anti-Hoover people claim, Hoover can be stopped at Kansas City, then the Dawes candidacy at once becomes over-shadowing and all-pervading for the Hoover managers say if their candidate can be stopped Lowden can also be counted out.

Big States Doubtful

The biggest question mark today, three months from the date of assembly, is the attitude of New York and Pennsylvania leaders.

No Republican candidate has ever been named without the support of these powerful states, which have 169 delegates in the convention. Thus far, they are uncommitted, although the Hoover managers have been industriously at work in New York and claim a minimum of 30 of New York's 90 votes.

Should New York and Pennsylvania go over to the Hoover cause, it would admittedly be just about all over but the shouting. But neither has done so, and there is no indication that anything of the sort will be forthcoming before the assembly three months from today. New York leaders are holding their organization in line on the "draft Coolidge" argument, and in Pennsylvania the organization has been strangely silent.

The Pennsylvanians are expected to cast their votes for Secretary of the Treasury A. W. Mellon on the first ballot until the situation is clarified.

A good deal may depend, too, upon the outcome of the primary fights in Indiana and Ohio, where Hoover has elected to contest for delegates against the favorite sons, Watson and Willis.

A Hoover victory in either of these states—which most practical politicians here do not anticipate—might well prove the beginning of a Hoover tempest that would sweep the imperturable New York and Pennsylvania leaders off their feet.

On the other hand, a sanguinary defeat for the cabinet candidate might reveal such weaknesses in the Hoover appeal that it would render infinitely easier the task of stopping him. In any event, the next three months may see the making of the next president of the United States.

To Stock Mercer Streams With Bass

Carload Of Fingerling Fish Are Ordered From Hatcheries

MERCER, Pa., March 13.—A carload of black bass that will be distributed over Eastern Mercer county stocking the streams and lakes of that territory have been requisitioned from the United States fisheries by the officers of the Mercer Rod and Gun club who will be responsible for the dumping of the fish.

Sandy Lake, Shenango river, Neshannock creek are all destined as future homes for the many thousand fingerling length of fish that are expected.

Teh order will have to be sanctioned by Congressman T. C. Cochran of this district who will handle it at Washington for the local sportsmen.

Orders of fish from the state fisheries have also been placed for the same streams including cat fish, sun fish and minnows.

The flood of the Mississippi river last spring prevented the shipment of bass from the U. S. hatcheries there to Mercer county as promised.

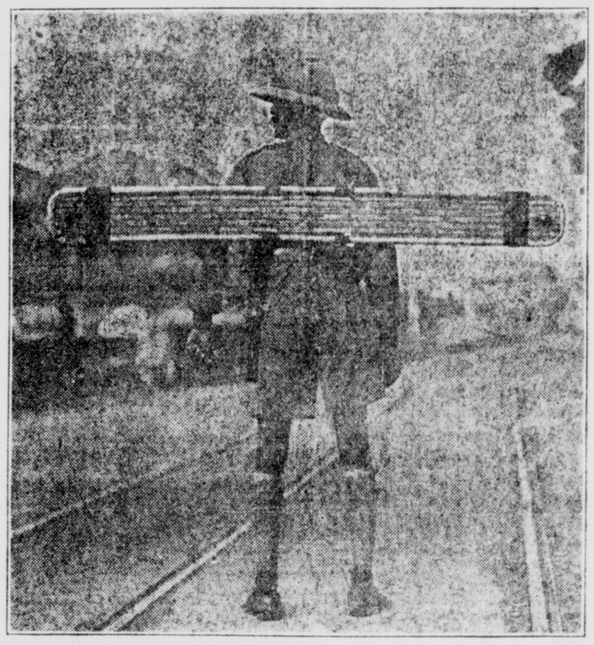

The shipment will be the largest that ever came to the county.

A Human Stop-and-Go Signal

Here's a recent picture of a stop-and-go traffic officer, who tries to prevent accidents in far away Ceylon. No, the bamboo board that adorns his back isn't supposed to protect him but serves as a signal. When he stands in the position pictured above, motorists are supposed to wait until he swings around. And, native drivers know it isn't healthy to crowd this guardian of the law, as the cells in Ceylon aren't noted for their comfort.

Credit Exchange Makes People Pay Bills Promptly

Accounts Now Are Receivable In 60 Days, Says Credit Manager

"Although we have been organized just a trifle over a year, the influence of the New Castle Credit Exchange has been such on the community that it has caused the general public to pay their bills in 60 days where it formerly took 90 days," was the statement made this morning by Ray F. Hall, manager of the New Castle Credit Exchange.

"Aside from this, the influence of the exchange has been such that 33 per cent is the average increase on accounts receivable.

"What does all this mean? Well, it means that if a merchant is doing a $2,500 credit business a year, this association is worth over $500 a year to him, and that is six per cent interest on the money for four months.

"The New Castle Credit Exchange is affiliated with credit associations all over the United States. London, England, has just joined the national association, and advises that they can furnish reports from any place in Europe."

CHARRED BODY OF MAN FOUND IN CELLAR AFTER FIRE

BUTLER, Pa., March 13.—David Michael Orr., 75, was burned to death after midnight when the two story frame house in which he lived at Renfrew, south of Butler, was destroyed by fire. It is thought that the fire started by the explosion of gas in an incubator in the basement.

When neighbors raised a ladder and entered the sleeping room in the second floor they found that Orr was not in bed and it is believed that he had heard the explosion and had gone to the basement to investigate. His charred body was found in the basement after the fire had consumed the building.

They blame the high price of leather for the increase in shoe costs and the strange thing is that oxfords are as expensive as those with uppers. So the uppers can't be blamed for taking the shoe price up.

STAR OF WALES LODGE MEETING

Interesting Program Is Presented —News Of Interest To Welsh People

By W. A. JOHNS

An interesting meeting of the Star of Wales lodge, No. 60, True Ivorites of America, on last Saturday, March 10, when there was a good attendance and the financial secretary, Thomas D. Thomas, reported a few more sick members on the sick list of the lodge. They are: Thomas Perrott, Edgewood avenue; Robert George, Monaca, and Harry Davis, DuShane street, who met with a painful accident at the Shenango tin mill and is a patient at the Shenango Valley hospital. A vote of sympathy was passed by the lodge for these unfortunate brothers and their families and the recording secretary, William A. Johns, was instructed to convey the vote of the lodge to Harry Davies at the hospital, wishing him a speedy recovery. The other sick members of the lodge are: Edward Gibbon, Meyer avenue; Griffith M. Jones, East Washington street, and William C. Lewis, Shaw street. Brother John Harvard, Euclid avenue, was present and as active as any young man of 80 years of age.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN LAKE

The Welsh people of the community were in great sympathy with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hopkins of Arlington avenue and their family in the sorrow and bereavement in the passing away from this world to the world beyond the grave of the dear sister of Mr. Hopkins, Mrs. John Lake, of Follansbee, W. Va., who was buried last week at Follansbee. A few weeks ago the family were called to Follansbee by the sad news of the death of Mr. Lake. Thus four children of the Lake family have been left orphans, without mother or father, within a few weeks' time. The Lake family is one of the most respectable families of Follansbee. One son, William, is the general manager of the Follansbee Tin Plate Works. The other son, Sidney, is the hot mill foreman of the works.

VISITS BROTHER IN WOODLAWN

Henry T. Jones of Waldo street, vice president of the Star of Wales lodge, and Evan Hopkins, outside guardian of the lodge, have returned from a visit to Woodlawn and Pittsburgh, where they went to see David Jones of Woodlawn, a brother of Henry T. Jones, who has been indisposed for some time, but as understood, they found him in a better condition and the family are looking forward to his recovery in the near future. Dave was a former resident of New Castle and he and his family still have many friends in this city.

ST. DAVIDS CELEBRATION COMPLIMENTED

Mrs. Frank Reynolds, president of the Women's Welsh Club, has received a good many letters praising the members of the Women's Welsh Club for the splendid banquet they put on at the St. Davids celebration on March 3. Among these gentlemen that honor the club with their fine compliments are David S. Pyle, general manager of the Shenango Tin Plate Works, who said that the banquet was one of the best that he ever attended. He paid a good compliment to the cooks, the singing and the speaking. Also a letter came from the Honorable James J. Davis, secretary of labor, the chief speaker of the day, in which he stated that he had attended great banquets in the United States and other countries, but never enjoyed himself better than at the banquet of St. David at New Castle. He complimented the reception committee, the beautiful building, the Cathedral, the committee of arrangements, and named some of them, such as the president, Mrs. Reynolds, and the chairlady of the committee of the program, Mrs. John Evans. He also complimented The Castleton quartet for their excellent work.

NEW CASTLE—MONESSEN PLAY TONIGHT

Locals In Shape For Hard Battle At Pitt Stadium

New Castle High School Basketball Team Faces Real Test Tonight

Monessen Will Present Strong Team In Fight For Right To Enter Finals

By "BUGS" WALTHER

AT EIGHT o'clock tonight, in the University of Pittsburgh stadium gymnasium, two schoolboy basketball teams, New Castle and Monessen High, will meet in a game that will determine the team to fight for the W. P. I. A. L. championship on Friday evening. The outcome of the contest about to be enacted on the stadium court is a toss-up.

Both teams are on edge for this important game. Having finished their training Monday afternoon, the boys are anxiously awaiting the whistle that sends them into action. From all indications the game tonight is going to be one of the best of the present tournament. Never have two teams met in combat that was more evenly matched.

Monessen Worthy Foe

Monessen High had a bitter fight to gain the title in Section V, and since that time they have defeated Sewickley and Fifth Avenue for the right to meet New Castle in the semi-final contest. The Monessen team appears as a mighty formidable foe and a worthy opponent to the defending champions of 1927. With a team that is equally as good with their offense as their defense, New Castle is going up against a team of passers tonight that never knows when to quit.

New Castle High school, with one of the finest teams that has ever represented the local institution, will enter the game tonight on an even keel with the Pittsburgh district quintet. Over-confidence, that little "bug" that wrecks many a good team, is lacking. The locals realize that they must fight to the last ditch tonight for victory.

The red and black-clad team wound up their training Monday afternoon at Senior High school and looked impressive as Coach Bridenbaugh sent them through a short workout with the scrubs. The boys were dropping them through the hoops with a regularity that if carried out tonight will bring them the coveted victory.

In Paul, the Monessen High forward, the locals will be up against a man that has been a sensation in Section V this year. His work has been nothing short of sensational and he looms as a real threat to the locals. Captain Reider is always at his best in the Pitt Stadium, and if the local boy can unloosen the attack tonight that brought him four baskets against Monaca, the locals will be well on their way to victory by the end of the first half.

"Tony" Ostrosky, the stellar red and black guard, was hobbling around with an injured leg for several days, but the injured member has responded to treatment and he was back in the line-up on Monday afternoon.

Genuine Test

The genuine test of the year for the locals will come tonight. New Castle High has met few teams this year that compare favorably with the Monessen crew, and for that reason the outcome is hard to judge. Monessen showed plenty of floor knowledge in their victories over Sewickley and Fifth Avenue. New Castle was not extended very hard in their victory over Monaca High.

With almost a week elapsing since their last appearance at the Pitt Stadium, the locals will enter the game tonight fresh and alert. Monessen came through a thrilling struggle with Fifth Avenue on Saturday night by a score of 25 to 21 and was forced to the utmost. From every indication Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh will use his regular starting line-up tonight, with Reider and Cuba at the forwards, Alexander at center and Sillman and Ostrosky at guards. In reserve will be McClelland, Kulich, Johnson, Thomas and Richards.

The New Castle team left early this afternoon for Pittsburgh, headed by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner. The locals were to be quartered at the Schenley Hotel upon their arrival in Pittsburgh and be put to bed till game time.

New Castle Special Train To Pittsburgh Tonight Over P. & L. E. Lines

The New Castle special train to Pittsburgh tonight for the New Castle-Monessen basketball game, will leave the P. & L. E. station at 5:30 o'clock, said George A. Hamilton, ticket agent today.

The special will leave Pittsburgh for New Castle at 10:15 o'clock. Indications point to the New Castle team being well supported in their semi-final tilt tonight. The High School students making the trip will be under the supervision of members of the faculty and will have separate coaches on the train.

Risko Is Given Decision Over Jack Sharkey

Cleveland Fighter Outpoints Boston Slugger In New York Bout

MAY NOW BATTLE BIG AUSTRALIAN

NEW YORK CITY, March 13. — Johnny Risko, the Cleveland "baker-boy" today stands as a challenger to the crown worn by Gene Tunney the premier heavyweight, following his fifteen round decision fight with Jack Sharkey, at Madison Square Garden on Monday night.

Risko left-hooked the "Boston Gob" to death and was the unanimous choice of the judges at the end of the fifteenth chapter. Sharkey played the role of "sucker" to that stinging left of the Cleveland dough-expert and time and time again Risko gained points via the southpaw attack.

Sharkey entered the ring a favorite over Risko, but failed to maintain his stride, if he ever had any, and although reported to be in fine physical shape, was no match for the Ohioan.

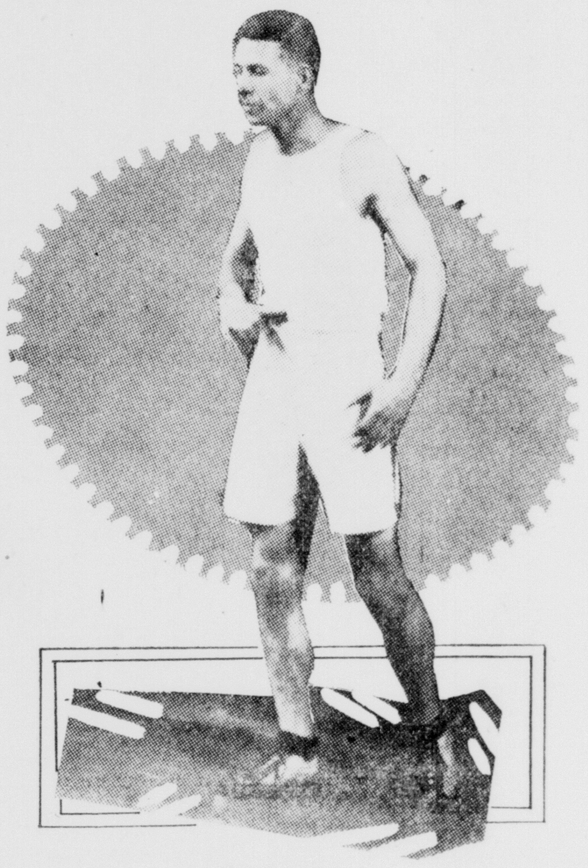

Risko won eight of the rounds through his dogged aggressiveness and style of fighting akin to that of Tom Heeney, the only man that stands between Risko and a match with Tunney for the Title.

Twilight League Moguls To Meet

This picture of the runner was taken shortly before he entered the race.

"Bill" Kirk Wins Wrestling Title, Tosses Champion

Former New Castle High Gridder Wins Wrestling Title At Amherst

According to word received in this city William "Bill" Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kirk of 403 Moody avenue is the heavyweight wrestling champion of Amherst college.

In a recent match with Jack Apple, senior champion of the eastern school, Kirk threw "his man" in the short time of 14¾ seconds. Kirk is in his freshman year at Amherst.

Kirk is well known to the younger set in New Castle, having graduated from New Castle high school in the class of 1927 and later entering Amherst college. Last fall Kirk tried out for football at Amherst and was given a berth at tackle on the freshman team. According to the experts at Amherst, the local youth is the popular choice for a tackle job on the varsity next season.

"Bill", as he is known to his friends here, is 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 190 pounds. As a member of the New Castle high school football team Kirk earned his letter and was a tower of strength to the Bridenbaugh coached eleven.

The winning of the championship by Kirk was an overwhelming and unexpected feat, yet the caution, aggressiveness and determination with which the local boy attacked his opponent made for him many staunch admirers in the mat game at Amherst. He was also the favorite of the evening.

Rosey made himself famous in this section by defeating Mog Pugh in a bout at the Opera House here several years ago.

Corbett is a clever chap who can punch and possesses a degree of ringcraft that few boys hereabouts can boast.

Dazzy Vance Cashes In On His Pitching Ability

By JACK SORDS

The big dough boy of the National league flingers, that's Mr. Dazzy Vance. Mr. Vance became the costliest piece of ball hurling machinery in the senior loop as a result of a great deal of unseemly bickering between himself and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Twenty thousand iron men is the sum Mr. Vance is to receive this season for flinging 'em past 'em. That's a sight of money, as they used to say up at the corner cabbage stand.

Herb Pennock of the New York Americans draws down a like sum, you. But then Herbie is in the employ of the same club that can afford to pay Babe Ruth his princely retainer.

This will be Vance's seventh season with the Dodgers, as he came up from New Orleans in 1922. Dazzy has been a great star and a headline hurler for most of his big league career.

He was the most valuable player in his league in 1924, is rated as baseball's current strikeout king, belongs to the no-hit club and is able to throw the sphere with terrific speed. He struck out 262 in 1924, his banner year.

Heeney And Risko May Be Matched

Cleveland Boy Defeats Sharkey For Right To Meet Tom Heeney

ULTIMATE WINNER TO BATTLE TUNNEY

By SID MERCER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 13.—Tex Rickard's gold-lined heavyweight elimination tournament has now been filed down to the point where Honest Tom Heeney, the New Zealand blacksmith, and Johnny Risko, the Cleveland baker, must fight it out for the privilege of being named as Gene Tunney's next challenger.

The prospect of this match producing an outstanding contender is now so remote that the heavyweight champion may be compelled to forego his plan to defend the title next June and be content with one fight this year.

Indeed Tunney may not even bob up with a million dollar customer for next September unless some candidate now hiding his light under a bushel bursts forth with a decisive victory over one of the cast in Rickard's heavyweight stock company.

Tex this morning scanned the list of available spring dates at Madison Square Garden and his two outdoor arenas for a spot where he can edge in Heeney and Risko for the purpose of developing a June contender. He admits the outlook is none too good, but hopes to stage the bout in the Garden early in May.

Neither Heeney nor Risko are keen for a showdown. The former argues that he took a ten-round decision from the Clevelander last November in Detroit.

Furthermore the bar el-chested New Zealander points out that his New York challenge, filed a week ago, takes precedence over Sharkey's by virtue of the fact that Sharkey was eliminated last night by a man who was beaten by Heeney.

Coon Hunters To Meet Thursday

All coon hunters of Lawrence county are invited to attend a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday night, March 15, at eight o'clock. Championship Game At Y. M. C. A. Floor On Wednesday Night

Liberty Five To Meet Rick-Overlands For City League Title

Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. floor the Liberty Five and Rick-Overland teams will battle in the first game of the city championship series. The game will be preceded by a preliminary game at eight o'clock.

A fast game is expected, due to the keen rivalry that exists between the two teams. The Liberty Five has been strengthened by the addition of Hank Nocera to their line-up. The Overlands will have Andy Hartman, former Grove City and Carnegie Tech star, and Carmody, former captain of the Yale varsity, in their line-up.

The Overlands were winners of the first half of the league and the Liberty Five annexed the title in the second half. The second game of the series will be played later in the week.

Freddie Defeats Zivie Osborn

Scores Knockdown In Sixth Round Of Exciting Battle

CONRAD, ZILL AND FRANKIE LE FAY WIN

By ED. FRITZ

FREDDIE FITZGERALD of Youngstown made his debut in a Drama of Punch at the Old Armory last night and demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that as a member of the colony that indulges in the Art of Flattening Foes he is master of Zivie Osborn of Cleveland. At least he was last night and far be it from us to predict that Freddie would fall in another undertaking.

The 140-pounders trotted six rounds to the tune of hard wallops and their steps were somewhat fast. There wasn't a dull moment in the fight and Bill Jolly, the ringmaster at the Jolly Fistic circus certainly didn't fool anybody when he said that it would be a thrilling battle.

Zivie took the first round but after that Freddie found a way to elude Osborn's left hook and in the second commenced to outbox the Clevelander who's left hook fell short of distance. In the third the Youngstown boy hit his pace and was never headed though Osborn kept piling in and took two, sometimes three, to land one punch.

Osborn Down

When the sixth session arrived the fans were on their toes and after Fitz' had clipped Osborn with left hooks and straight rights to the head they fought hard at close quarters. Osborn came out of the clinch and placed a good left hook to the stomach and then looped a right to the head.

They stood and slugged and Osborn broke ground and when he tried to nail Freddie with a left to the stomach Fitz beat him to the punch with a right to the jaw and he went to the canvas but got up without taking a count. Fitz bored in and landed often but Osborn clinched and held on.

Fitzgerald speeded hand and foot and tried desperately for a knockout. He rocked Osborn with rights and lefts to the head and Zivie was glad to creep close and clinch and he

Brooklyn Team Is Expensive One, But Still Lacks Class

Doubtful If Dodgers Get Out Of Second Division This Year

Bancroft Sure To Add Pepper To Infield; Vance Expected To Have Good Season

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 12.—The writer had the privilege of gazing upon a $200,000 ball club. At least, the payroll said it was a $200,000 outfit, a fact that might be deemed sufficient to prompt the late Charley Ebbets to turn turtle in his tomb. For the Brooklyn Dodgers used to be Charley's ball club and this once was Charley's money.

Years ago, in a moment of eloquence, Charley delivered himself of the dictum that baseball still was in its infancy. What he probably meant was that it soon was to go into its second childhood. When a ball club which holds the head of the second division as its abiding ambition is willing to pay and does pay Arnold Statz a salary of $10,000 for the season, the faculty of reason fairly totters on its throne.

Mr. Wilbert Robinson, the open-faced, Swiss movement president-manager of the club, seems to be the sponsor for this policy of prodigality, although Charley himself was hardly the human stringency that popular fable would have him. However, it is to be doubted that he would have listened very attentively to Statz's $10,000 each. It is an open question whether Jess Petty would have shaken him loose for $15,000. He probably would have granted Dazzy Vance his $20,000, but I fear that the capitulation would have been marked by that spontaneous enthusiasm so noticeable in a man conceding a five-foot putt.

Bancroft Gets $45,000

As for David J. Bancroft, player-manager of the 1927 Braves, Charles would have had him arrested if he had requested a $15,000 contract plus a $30,000 bonus, $45,000 in all. But Mr. Robinson says it is all right, and as far as the rest of the world, including Bancroft, is concerned, that just about closes the transom.

Bancroft, as claimed, is the keyman of the club. If he is the old Banny, which is to be doubted, he can and will make an infield out of any three men. The Braves say he has slipped beyond all reason, but Robbie only smiles at that crack. It is the latter's idea that Bancroft worried himself out of a job last year, a theory that isn't altogether sustained by the young man's age, which is 35.

Infielders usually do not outlive that milestone.

However, even if he can get off a watch crystal out there, he will be a prime necessity to the operation of a kid infield, and other members of which are Del Bissonette at first base, Jim Partridge at second and Harry Riconda at third. The latter has been up and down like a freight elevator, but he had an encouraging year with Milwaukee this time and has shown enough down here to take the place away from Howard Freigau of Dayton, O., and Kansas City, who has had his fling with the Cubs and Cardinals.

D'Arcy Flowers, former Card, is available in case Bancroft bogs down, but Leo Bader of Jacksonville and New Orleans; "Chuck" Corgan, Kansas City, and Hal Lee of Mississippi College are not long for this life, apparently. Bill Rhiel, another infielder, already has been sent back to Atlanta—the ball club, not the penitentiary.

Bissonette at First

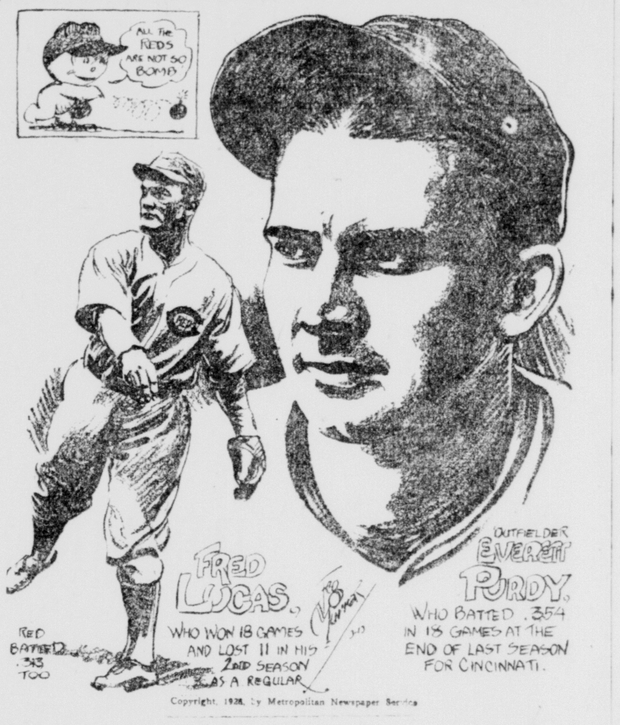

Bissonette, who once deemed himself a pitcher with the Yankees, hit so well in the International League last year that he has been wished into Babe Herman's job at first base and Herman informed, much to his surprise, that he is an outfielder. Somehow, this fact also had managed to escape general notice during the fortunately few occasions Herman essayed the outfield at Ebbets Field, but then, Babe ever was a bloke to conceal things. In Fact, he permanently lost a lot of ball games around first base last year. He is hitting like a fool down here at that.

The added punch of which Mr. Robinson speaks so glibly is supposed to be furnished by Bissonette and Bancroft in the infield and by Al Tyson, the new addition to the outfield. Albert couldn't hit the size of his board bill with the Giants, but he went well in Buffalo and so he is back with the only club that will pay $10,000 to a man who hits .265. Tyson is and will be the regular left fielder until further notice. Carey, no longer a hitter, will be in right, with Harvey Hendricks, always a hitter but never a fielder, available in utility roles, but as outfielder and first baseman. Statz, one of the finest defensive men the game affords, will adorn center field. Overton Tremper, former University of Pennsylvania man, has a chance to stay, if he hits, but Dan Taylor of Memphis and Lash, Penn, has little or none.

The old line of catchers, Hank Deberry, Butch Henline and Charley Hargraves, again is around and about, which probably means that Hugh Wise, Purdue University, won't be long. If he goes he merely will be following Alonzo Lopez of Jacksonville, who took a one-way ride, by request, the other day.

Two Prominent Reds

By Feg Murray

If you will scan the roster of the Roisterous Reds of Cincinnati you will find the names of Lucas, Charles Fred who bats left, throws right, is 26 years old, weight 170 pounds, stands 5 feet 9½ inches tall and lives in Nashville, Tennessee and Purdy, Everett Virgil who bats left throws right, is 24 years old, weighs 150 ,is 5 feet 6 inches tall and whose home is in Beatrice, Nebraska.

"Red" Lucas is that rare combination of hitter-pitcher so seldom seen in the major leagues. He played second base and in the outfield for the Braves in 1924 and when sent to Seattle in May of the following year he both pitched and chased flies in the outer gardens. In 1926 at Cincinnati he was used primarily as a relief hurler appearing in 31 ball games, winning 6 and losing 5. But what was more important to him he batted more than .300.

In 1927 "Red" made quite a name for himself, for in 37 games as a pitcher he won 18 and lost 11 with an earned run percentage of 3.37. In 150 times at bat (this is 80 games) he made 49 hits, for an average of .313. Perhaps he'll develop into a regular outfielder in time. Other pitchers have done it.

Everett Purdy also came to the Reds from Seattle. Arriving at the tail end of last season he belted big league pitching for an average of .354. He is a little runt but got two doubles, four triples and one homer out of his 22 hits in 62 times at bat.

Feg Murray Says.

Collegians Top Big Five 62-32

The New Wilmington Collegians proved too strong for the Savoia Big Five last night in their battle at the House of Savoia floor. The final score was 62 to 32. In the preliminary game the Savoia Juniors won their 20th straight victory by upsetting the Mystery Five 26 to 16.

The Juniors took an early lead over the Mystery boys and held it throughout the game. E. Gennock and Tex Richards were the stars for the Juniors with five and two baskets respectively.

The Collegians-Big Five game was a walkaway for the visitors with the Hutchinson brothers the big noise with 16 baskets between them. Henderson and Tervo also were dropping them through the hoops with regularity. The score at the end of the first half favored the Collegians 20 to 15. Natale played a good game for the Big Five until taken out due to injuries.

The Juniors will meet the Chandlers on Wednesday night and the Big Five will play the First Baptist church team. Both games will be played on the House of Savoia floor.

apparently was a very tired 140-pounder. However, while the fans were yelling lustily for Fitz to produce a knockout the bell ended the fight.

Conrad Wins Again

In the semi-final of six rounds, Eddie Conrad, the Cleveland Ghost who is one of the best boxers in the country won from Jimmie Kirkpatrick of Ellwood City. Jimmie kept trying all of the time but his swings never landed. Conrad moved with the precision of a well oiled clock and kept Jimmie off balance all the time and now and then shook him from head to toes with right and left.

Eddie Jiggers of Pittsburgh raised his hands in token of abject surrender after he had taken a good lacing from Frankie LeFay of Troy, N. Y. He had half a dozen pounds on Le Fay and rolled him in the first but Frankie got up without a count. With his face red from blood he took a neat lacing in the second and after taking one to the chin and another to the stomach quit in the third.

Tennessee Is Game

Young Tennessee was defeated by Jimmie Zill in the first six round bout, the performance of the game Tennessee will go down in the annals of local preliminary fighters. Time and again Jimmie stretched him on the canvas but he always got up and piled in for more. It is true Jimmie won and should have but Tennessee certainly showed courage last night and won a place in the hearts of fandom.

The fights last night were up to the calibre of the shows that have been staged at the Old Armory and though Jiggers tossed up his hands in surrender he was a beaten boy and it is just as well that he did quit. The other seven fighters, however fought true to form and not one fan left the Old Armory dissatisfied.

By BILL RITT

The big league teams barring wives from training camps opened a new era. It marks the triumph of the bat over the rolling pin.

Maybe the managers were jealous of rookies' frail bosses and wanted to do all the bawling out themselves.

No fair frau ever scolded her meal ticket into a world series, but many a well-meaning mamma has jabbered her Johnnie back into the bush loops.

There is nothing that will jar a well-oiled ball club into the second division as quickly as when ball players' wives begin biting each others ears over whose hat is the hottest.

A wife's conversation is pleasant as long as it doesn't interfere with her hubby's batting average.

A Cleveland rookie has refused to do any spring training as long as his bride was barred from camp. He seems to have wanted all his scoldings legalized with the ring ceremony.

Duquesne High Tops Braddock

Duquesne high school basketball team won the right to meet the winner of the New Castle-Monessen high game for the championship of the W. P. I. A. L. by their startling upset of the Braddock High team at the Pitt Stadium floor on Monday night by a score of 26 to 18.

Kowallis and Ciesynski led the attack for the winners with four baskets between them. The "Dukes" played a fine game throughout and there was no individual star on the team.

The Duquesne team can now rest until Friday night, when they meet the winner of the game tonight for the championship.

Time For Training Coon Dogs Given

That the only time that coon dogs can be trained by leading a tame raccoon or making a drag from the nest of the coon and running dogs over the trail is from August 20 to February 28, according to an opinion of the attorney general of Pennsylvania, just received by District Game Protector Frank N. Johnson.

Mr. Johnson warns that anyone found infringing upon this law is liable for arrest.

Speed . . .
U. S. Royal Cords will take all the speed any car can make—and stand up under it.

Easy Riding . . .
U. S. Royal Cords cushion the rough spots. Detours have no terrors for the car with Royal Cords.

Cool Tires . . .
Tires that run cool, run longer. Internal friction is reduced in U. S. Royal Cords. They stay cool.

Long Life . . .

Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

SOMEWHERE SOUTH, March 12.—One of the most familiar figures of minor league baseball is ready to start his twenty-fourth year in the game — at the same old stand. That of umpiring.

That man is Ollie Anderson, signed for another year on the umpiring staff of the South Atlantic league.

Anderson broke into the game as an umpire in 1905 in the Northern league. Since that time he has umpired ball games from Winnipeg Canada to Galveston, Texas, and from New York to San Francisco.

He has called balls and strikes in the Pacific Coast league, the American association, the Western league, Texas, New York State, and then of recent years the South Atlantic. He also served as arbiter in the Federal league during its short but hectic existence.

The first 10 years of his career he umpired "single"—the only official in the game. Then came the double umpire system, which lightened his work.

The first six years he labored he was the only man to complete the season in his league.

But here is the most marvelous part of his career.

He has not missed a single ball game—or even one-half of a double header—as he puts it.

Getting tired of the game?

Anderson says not. As a matter of fact he has just added new responsibilities to his daily duties. He has broken into the development end of the game by designing new baseball plants for various minor league clubs. His latest effort was that of laying out the new park in the city of Augusta, Ga.

Anderson has kept up with the game. He is now laboring to make the club owners and officials of baseball see the logic of his solution of the much discussed foul-ball problem.

Two or three changes have been made in the rules governing long hits over outfield fences or into grandstands, which start fair and may end in their flight outside an umpire's vision.

The rule which left it to the umpire to determine the nature of the hit at the point at which it passed over the fence was found to leave too much room for discussion. Then it was altered to permit the umpires to determine the fairness or foulness at the point at which the ball disappeared from sight. This solution has not proven satisfactory.

Anderson urges the erection of a sixty-foot flag pole at each corner at the junction of the foul line and the outfield boundary.

These poles would carry a white band on the side facing the home-plate. All balls passing inside this pole would be classed as fair hits, and all passing on the foul side, foul hits. Balls striking the poles would be called fair balls.

Anderson urges as the principle merit of this plan the fact that it would at least eliminate all causes for argument and relieve the umpires a hard task.

The heighth of the poles, at that distance from the plate, would preclude the possibility of balls being hit over the "top" of the foul pole.

NEW BUILDING PLANNED

MONONGAHELA, Pa., March 13.—Plans are under way today for construction of a new laboratory building at the local plant of the Page Steel and Wire Company, a subsidiary of the American Chain Company.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 13.—In a desperate struggle to extricate themselves from the trap that has daily been growing tighter and tighter around them, the bears in Radio Corporation stock bid 10 to 20 points above Monday's final prices for that stock at the beginning of trading today.

A block of 25,000 shares of Radio started the day at 160, up 21½ points from the previous close. In a frenzied speculative orgy Radio was turned over very rapidly in the first hour, dropping suddenly to 140 for a 20-point dip, and rallying in excited trading to 148, where a large volume of the stock was sold. Trading in the big board as a whole crossed 1,000,000 shares before the end of the first hour, a rate which bid fair to set up a new high record, and probably establish the first 4,000,000-share day in history.

After reaching slightly higher prices in the first hour, the leading industrial and motor stocks were under selling pressure and moved downward a point or two. The swift pace of the market in the last ten days has not only taxed the facilities of the exchange to the limit, but also induced a cautionary attitude on the part of the brokerage house heads and their customers in every rank.

Crude rubber declined another cent a pound to 23 cents, cotton gained 10 points in the early trading and grain was firm. Call loan rates were unchanged at 4½ per cent.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

Chicken en casserole requires no watching except to see that there is enough liquid on it. It is easily served, too. The rice takes the place of potatoes.

Chicken en Casserole
Creamed Cauliflower
Cabbage, Orange and Nut Salad
Delicious Gingerbread
with Whipped Cream
Coffee or Substitute

Today's Recipes

Chicken en Casserole—Cut one chicken in pieces and put in casserole. Add eight small onions and one-half cup uncooked rice. Cover with boiling water and season with salt, pepper and butter. Cover and bake in slow oven three or four hours.

Delicious Gingerbread—One cup white sugar, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon ginger, two tablespoons baking molasses, four tablespoons melted lard, one egg, one cup sour milk (clabber), two cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda. Mix sugar, salt, cinnamon, ginger, molasses and lard together. Add well-beaten egg and milk. Sift flour and soda together, add to mixture and stir until creamy. Turn in two good-sized cake tins. Sprinkle granulated sugar over the top and bake in moderate oven. Serve with whipped cream.

Separating the Leaves

Try this method of separating the leaves of the hard head of lettuce: Cut the stem off the head a half inch and let the water run with force on the leaves so as to separate them.

Keeping Bottle Warm

Wrap the baby's bottle with a piece of flannel and that keeps the bottle from slipping and also keeps the baby's milk warm throughout the feeding, which otherwise, unless the baby is a very fast eater, gets quite cold toward the last.

Ellwood City Night At Epworth Church

Large Delegation Is Expected To Attend Services This Evening

An unusually fine meeting was conducted Monday evening at the special evangelistic services in Epworth M. E. church. A large audience was present and a splendid interest was manifested.

The pastor, Rev. S. L. Maxwell, D. D., delivered a soul searching sermon on "Whosoevers of Jesus". Following the service a large number of people went forward to re-consecrate and dedicate themselves to God.

The song service led by Homer E. Welch was very inspiring to the meeting.

This evening will be Ellwood City night. A large delegation is expected to attend from the churches of that place.

British Aviator Drowns In Ocean

LONDON, March 13.—Divers will scour the depths of the sea off Calshot lightship today for the body and plane of Flight Lieut. S. M. Kinkead, who was killed yesterday evening when his super-marine Napier seaplane plunged into the water while he was attempting to beat the world's air speed record of 296.94 miles an hour.

What caused the tiny seaplane to make its fatal nose-dive from a height of about 150 feet, is still unknown.

Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Walker, who for many years lived near Enon Valley, died February 9, 1928, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Grace Ferguson, of Denison, Kansas.

Mrs. Walker was born near New Galilee on April 23, 1852, the daughter of James and Susan Patterson. On January 1, 1879, she was married to Joseph Alexander Walker, and for 46 years they lived on a farm near Enon Valley, going to Kansas in March, 1925, to make their home with their daughter.
